Anderson Falls Short In Dist. 4 Race

by MIKE PRAMSHAFER

Incumbent Norm Geary (Avon Twp.) and Charlotte "Char" Kiesgen (Grant Twp.) held off a surging Pat Anderson for Lake County Board GOP nominations in Dist. 4 March 18.

Geary and Kiesgen each captured the GOP nomination for the two vacant seats in the district, with Anderson following close behind in third place during the March 18 primary.

Geary garnered 2,510 of the votes, with Kiesgen gathering 2,417. Anderson received 2,120 votes (3rd place), while Geary's running mate, William "Bill" Mestan, garnered only 1,559 votes (fourth place).

The "Laurel and Hardy" of the Dist. 4 race, Joe Tobolik (Grant Twp.) and Ray Edwards (Antioch Twp.), received 1,009 and 685 votes respectively.

"I would like to thank all of my supporters for helping me obtain this victory. I knew it was going to be a long, hard fought campaign and I'm glad we survived. It's too bad Bill (Mestan) didn't get in because I think he would have done a beautiful job for the people," Geary said.

Geary and Kiesgen will join Jim Fields (Antioch Twp.) and Fred Popp (Lake Villa Twp.) as Dist. 4 representatives.

Dist. 4 voters gave Anderson and Kiesgen the early lead, but Geary surpassed the challenger (Anderson) as the Grayslake totals started coming in during election night.

In the Lake County clerk's race, Donna-Mae Litwiler defeated Wauconda's Venita McConnel by a decisive margin.

Litwiler, who had the support of Lake County Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox, garnered 12,424 votes, while McConnel gathered only 9,263.

Neckerman Heads Open Mall Details

by CHRIS SPECHT

With construction to begin on the Antioch open mall project in two weeks, those hired by the village to work out the project details will have some busy days ahead of them.

At a March meeting, the Antioch Village Board hired Arthur Neckerman, a member of the Antioch Redevelopment Commission to coordinate the project.

Commission member Michael Warren said that Neckerman will be meeting with village officials, members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and owners of land and stores that will be affected by the project. One of the things that will be discussed is what the owners of businesses that will be affected by this project can do to make construction of the project run smoothly.

These discussions will include any clean-up projects that must be undertaken by the businesses before construction can begin, where delivery areas will be placed, how snowplowing will be handled, and the location of a pedestrian walk-way.

"Everyone thinks that their property has to be treated in a special way," said Warren, "we are trying to take everyone's needs into consideration."

Charles Maplethorpe, formerly the public works director for the village of Antioch will be in charge of making the arrangements for the grading equipment to be available when construction begins.

Horak Gets Six Months In Fox Lake Bribe Scam

John Horak, the general manager of HOD Disposal Inc. of Antioch, was sentenced to six months in jail, five years probation, and a fine of $25,000 for bribing Fox Lake officials, by U.S. District Court Judge Charles Norgle Jr. on March 13.

Last month, a jury found Horak guilty of paying a series of bribes totaling $20,000 from 1981 to 1983, to former Fox Lake Mayor Richard Hamm and former village Trustee Richard Gerretsen.

In exchange for the bribes, those involved got the Fox Lake Village Board to approve a garbage removal contract with HOD Disposal Inc. of Antioch. The company is a subsidiary of Waste Management Inc. of Oak Brook, who purchased the firm from Horak in 1972 for 63,424 shares of stock.

The stocks are at the center of the issue of whether or not Horak will have to forfeit his stock in Waste Management Inc. Norgle continued this issue until April 9.

Also at issue is the restitution that must be paid to the village of Fox Lake for overcharges in garbage removal.

U.S. Attorney Ira Raphaelson recommended that restitution to the village be set at $600,000, which was the amount of the garbage contract which was won with bribes

Prizes Galore!

This vast array of prizes was auctioned off at the conclusion of the Antioch Jaycee's Annual Las Vegas night which was held at the VFW Memorial Home in Antioch. The proceeds from the Vegas night will be used to fund such Jaycee projects as a scholarship donated to Antioch Community High School, boating, hunting, and snowmobile safety courses, and sending children to Camp New Hope.

New Center To Offer Drinking Alternatives

by CHRIS SPECHT

Since the drinking age in Illinois was raised to 21, there has been a problem with teenagers driving across the border to Wisconsin where the drinking age is 19. Since this practice sometimes ends in a tragic accident, some area residents have decided to provide a viable alternative to driving to Wisconsin on the weekends.

The beginning of this month witnessed the opening of what some area residents hope will be an answer to this problem. The answer is a new "teen center" and it is located on old Lake Ave. at what used to be the Channel Lake School but is now the Windy City Circus Complex.

Ed Sheehan, owner of the Windy City Circus Complex, Brian Forbes, owner of the Dancin' Machine I, which provides the music for the center, Nancy Cannon, mobile sales manager for Dancin' Machine I, and area parent Kathy Malicki, are responsible for the center's existence.

The center is open on Saturdays from 7-11 p.m. and admission is $3. The main attraction of the center is the dance floor. A second room has video games and refreshments, while a third room offers pool tables and games such as futsal. Cannon said that the center hopes to expand both its hours and its space as it attracts more kids. Cannon said that when the center first opened it drew about 50 kids. According to Cannon that number has now increased to about 100.

Each Saturday night the center celebrates a different theme. Last week the center held a St. Patrick's Day celebration while this week the center will host a "Ladies Night" which will include an appearance by Dr. Val Vallesse, an Antioch dentist who claims to be the "future Mr. U.S.A."

On March 29, there will be a "Bunny Ball" to celebrate Easter, and in April, in response to "Ladies Night" there will be a "Men's Night" which will feature an appearance by the stunning Julie Chittenden, the "Black and Blues Sister" from Grayslake.

While the center has no official name yet the management is hoping that a name will be suggested by the patrons. In fact, Cannon said that those in charge of the center are always open to suggestions on how it can be improved.

Cannon also said that a certain percentage of the center's profits will be donated to a cause that will reflect its purpose; they will help fund Antioch Community High School drunk driving programs.

Jaycees Raise Money For 'Special' Kids

by CHRIS SPECHT

The Antioch Jaycees are part of a statewide Jaycee program that will send physically and mentally handicapped children to a special camp in Mattoon.

The Jaycees must sponsor any child that attends Camp New Hope, but any civic group that wishes to, can send a child through the Jaycees with their own donation.

The Antioch Jaycees are already sponsoring a stay at the camp for one child and are urging that other groups contribute to this cause. So far, the Antioch V.F.W. has been the first to respond to this call, donating $400.

The camp helps about 260 "exceptional" youngsters per year with its special program that helps physically and mentally handicapped children. There is no limit to the number of children a Jaycee chapter can send. The Antioch Jaycees themselves hope to send two kids to the camp and hope other local organizations will help them to send even more.

The deadline for applications is May 1, the camp requires that campers be at least 10 years of age with a mental age of at least five.

As part of their own fund raising efforts the Antioch Jaycees held their annual Vegas Night at the Antioch VFW Memorial Home.

That night the group raised about $4200, some of which will go towards sponsoring a second child to Camp Good Hope. The Antioch Jaycees will also donate $1000 to the Viking Junior Football League, $750 towards the renovation of the Statue of Liberty, and 14 yards of concrete for a nature center at the Volo Bog Nature Area.

Some big winners at the Vegas Night included Bill Creaney, of Antioch, who won a $400 travel certificate that was donated by the First National Bank of Antioch and the Antioch Jaycees. Nancy Johnson of Waukegan, won a 13 inch color television donated by the Bank of Waukegan and the Antioch Jaycees. Mary Howard, of Grayslake, won a $150 gift certificate which is good at any Antioch store which was donated by the Antioch State Bank and the Antioch Jaycees. Chris Miskinin, of Round Lake, won the prize in the Super Drawing, which was a $400 rabbit fur coat.

Untiedt Pleads Guilty

In return for a prison sentence not to exceed 25 years, Jeffery Untiedt pleaded guilty to aggravated battery and attempted aggravated criminal sexual assault.

The charges stem from two Fox Lake incidents. The first involving a 14-year-old girl on Nov. 21. For this Untiedt was charged with criminal sexual assault, aggravated criminal sexual abuse, unlawful restraint and battery. The second incident involved a 65-year-old Antioch woman who was assaulted by Untiedt at the Fox Lake train depot.

Sentencing has been set for March 26.

Emmons Examines Graduate Reorganization Swanson

This year Emmons School in Antioch studied the school reorganization plan as proposed by the Lake County Reorganization Committee. In January the Emmons Board of Education authorized the appointment of a parent/teacher committee to study the current quality of education at Emmons and the quality of education at Emmons under the proposed reorganization plan. The members of the committee were: Mrs. Clare DeMartini, chairman, Mrs. Jill Ballock, superintendent, Mrs. Alice Gantar, board president, Mrs. Sharon Deutsch and Mrs. Barbara Teegen, parents and Mrs. JoAnne Fleischman, Miss Kathy Urzedowski and Mrs. Cyndy Vandrush, teachers.

Mrs. Gantar submitted the report on behalf of the committee to the Lake County School Reorganization Committee at a public hearing on Monday, March 10.

The committee found that reorganization under the proposed plan offered little advantage to the Emmons district. The report stated that many of the programs offered by larger districts could be offered in a smaller district. It also stated that a well run small district can offer advantages a larger district can't offer such as a closer rapport with teachers and more attention to students' individual needs. Mrs. Gantar said these advantages have a direct effect on the quality of education afforded the students.

When presenting her summary at the hearing Mrs. Gantar stressed the importance of local control in the decision making process. She stated, "...if there are changes to be made, let us decide what they should be and when and how they should take place."

The Bottom-Line IRA

We Dare Other IRAs To Beat It!

A lot of IRAs offered today look mighty tempting. But when the smokescreen of bonuses and gimmicks has cleared and all the horns and whistles have stopped blowing, the only important thing is the bottom line... the amount your IRA will be worth at maturity. You will be surprised at how those gimmicks disguise a low yield. We've checked our competition on IRAs carefully. The "bottom line" is that most of them can't top the high yields of Skokie Federal IRAs...pure and simple.

At current rates, a deposit of $2,000 in our 3-year IRA would yield a tax-deferred $2,560 at maturity. The same contribution to our 5-Year IRA would yield a tax-deferred $3,136. We think you should check the "bottom line" wherever you open your IRA. Give us a call or stop in for actual comparisons...or call our competition. You'll find you are further ahead with the Bottom-Line IRA from Skokie Federal.

Term	Annual Rate %	Annual Yield %	$ Yield at Maturity*
3 Year	8.12	8.58	$2,560
5 Year IRA	8.87	9.41	$3,136

Low $500 Minimum. Interest Compounded Daily.

Economic Development Group Into Business Program

by GLORIA DAVIS

According to Cranston Bird, assistant director for Community Economic Development for the Lake County Planning Dept., the Lake County Economic Development Commission is hard at work on a new program for small businesses that has the commission really excited.

Late in February, the commission received a matching Community Development Block Grant for $50,000 to be used in the operation of a small business development program for the county.

The program presently being worked on is an entrepreneurial development program meant for use in planning and assisting future, new and existing businesses.

The program will be in two parts and will be available to Lake County businessmen in approximately six months through the Lake County Planning Dept., said Bird.

The first part will be an analysis of current Lake County business markets, comparing companies in Lake County to those in similar counties in order to come up with markets that are underserved and also ones that are saturated.

Offer Skills Class

The YWCA of Lake County will be offering a six-week office skills class starting March 25. The class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday, from 9 a.m. to noon, at the YWCA, located at 445 N. Genesee, Waukegan.

The classes are available to those of high school age and older. Tuition for the class is $15.

Topics to be covered are beginning and refresher typing, dictaphone, phone etiquette, filing, office machines, office attire, job applications, resumes and job interviewing; how to get a job and keep a job.

For more information about these services or to register for the skill class, call Sally Foster at (312) 662-4248.

Award Reese

Dan Reese, deputy director of the Hulse Detention Center, Lake County Dept. of Court Services, has been named the recipient of "The Court Services Worker of the Year Award," given by the Lake County Juvenile Officers Assn.

The award was presented at the association's annual awards banquet earlier this month at the Cabriolet restaurant in Libertyville.

The award recipient has been a county employee for the past 11 years and was promoted to his present position two years ago. He resides with his wife Cheryl in Third Lake.

Thursday March 20, 1986

This information will be available to those interested in opening businesses in Lake County as well as to those businesses already serving the county.

The second phase of the program is an educational component that is in two parts.

The first part will be an individual assessment of new and existing businesses.

The second part will be a detailed series of courses on business operation that will include several issues. The program will offer assistance in a later phase.

The commission is contacting a group of area banks in order to set-up an advisory group to build a base for capital to be available to program participants.

Bird added that the program will be closely coordinated with the College of Lake County's Small Business Development Center, using the resources and knowledge of the center's staff.

The first meeting on the program is scheduled for 11:30 a.m., on April 15. The site of the meeting is still to be decided upon.

Woodstock Slates 'Mame'

Cathy Taylor, a beautiful redheaded veteran performer from Crystal Lake, will star as Auntie Mame while 10-year-old Eric Svejar, 10-year-old veteran of many theatre productions in the Elgin area, will be the youthful Peter in the Woodstock Musical Theatre Company's next production, "Mame."

"Mame" opens in 1928 and concludes in 1946 so an older Patrick appears in the later scenes. Dean Ogren, Wauconda, who works as a merchandiser for a department store, will be the older Patrick as Auntie Mame recycles some of her aspirations and dreams presented earlier in the musical.

One of the humorous and "fun" roles in "Mame" is that part of Agnes Gooch, and Elise Dawson, Crystal Lake, has been chosen for this delightful part. She's a veteran WMTC participant, appearing on stage in "Night Watch," "Gypsy," and "Seven Keys to Baldpate," serving on the state of "Applause" and stage manager for last year's hit show, "Best Little Whorehouse in Texas."

Jim Meisel, stage manager for "Say Goodnight Gracie," has been chosen for the puritanical Mr. Babcock, the pompous attorney worrying about what young Peter will learn from the flighty Auntie Mame.

Two people involved in Opera House productions for two decades have roles in "Mame." Kathy Commella will be Mrs. Upson, and Karen Wells has a choice role as Mother Burnside—a Southern octogenarian.

Lou Czarny, who just completed a successful first experience as producer for "Say Goodnight, Gracie," moves to the stage for "Mame" to play the role of Ito.

William Clark Baber, Twin Lakes, is the southern gentleman who falls for Mame.

The chorus will feature many talented voices, and among them will be Michele Berlin. She has had an outstanding musical career these past four years at the University of Illinois where she was a star performer in many Krannert Theatre productions.

Also appearing in the chorus will be Kelly Karr, Dave Lindquist and Beth Davis, Woodstock; Diana Faerber, Algonquin; Carol Nesbitt and Laurie Lebo, Elgin; Carolyn Mattick, Crystal Lake; and Pam Orlando, Wauconda.

Historical Society To Schedule A 'Show And Tell' Of Antiques

The upcoming program for the Libertyville Mundelein Historical Society will be "Show and Tell," at 8 p.m. on Monday, March 24 at the Community Room, Cook Library, 413 No. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

Dig out those prized possessions, bring them to the March 24 program, and tell about them! Items that need to be identified and/or quiz the audience to see if they might know what you are showing are welcomed. This is always a lot of fun as has been proven at previous Show and Tell programs.

Members may have artifacts that they wish to display on the table for everyone to enjoy. Bring them along! Old toys, tools, antique guns, Indian artifacts, cups and saucers, etc. are a few of the many things that have shown in the past and are some ideas to consider.

The historical Society Archivist, Marie Janik reports that artifacts or archival materials have been received from: Don Borgwardt, Dorothy Bradford, Dorothy Cameron, Robert Dunn, Robert Gleason, Van and Pat Lazaroff and Neil Lee.

Many thanks go to all who gave donations of history to the Society. Only through the generosity of members and interested persons and organizations we hope to preserve the history of our villages and the area for future generations to enjoy.

Romain A. (Bud) Howlett has been appointed by the Board of Directors to fill the unexpired term of Mickey Alkire. Bud is well known in the community, active in civic organizations, and is a prominent businessman.

Items for sale by the Society: oftentimes people ask if the Society has something they can give to friends or relatives as a memento of the Libertyville-Mundelein area. Yes, items such as; beautiful note paper; 1976 Bi-Centennial history books—this is a real bargain and Jack Swan's interesting and well-researched "History of the Libertyville Fire Department." Gifts can be purchased during the tours of the Cook Home or at the monthly meetings.

Attendance at Society Programs has been outstanding—so much so that persons sitting (or standing) at the back of the hall have indicated that they have a difficult time hearing the program. The Board of Directors has asked the consensus of the membership: should the society investigate the possibility of a larger meeting hall?

The program schedule for upcoming meetings: is Monday, April 28-Ralph Freeses, "History of the Des Plaines River"; May 27-Ken Burnett, "History of the Lakeside Cemetery"; and June 1-Start of the "Every Sunday" summer tours of the Ansel B. Cook Home through August 31.

AFS Students Describe New Experiences

by HELEN ANDERSON

Both sides were heard by the Women of the United Protestant Church in February as Grayslake High Exchange students told of their experiences.

Cheryl Castellanos told of her three-month trip to Japan as an exchange student last summer. Terry Masaki, the present AFS exchange student showed slides of his homeland and spoke of his experiences here in America as a student.

Castellanos actually spent one month attending school. She said there the students all wore uniforms, and girls wore skirts most of the time. Shorts were rarely worn outside of the home. Subjects taught were basically the same as here in the United States except girls learned housekeeping half of the time and half of the time in that subject area had physical education.

While language was difficult for Cheryl, she did learn enough to get along in general conversation.

Her family consisted of the father Otoosan, the mother Okaasan and a seven-year old "sister" Maki. Maki taught Cheryl one of the Japanese alphabets. (there are three).

Castellanos found the food quite different, "lots of rice." She had no problems with chopsticks, having practiced before going to Japan. The family lived in a farm area, "very much like Grayslake," commented Cheryl. She noted that attitudes toward women in Japan are "more old fashioned, she is basically a housewife, and children stay children longer. Children don't become co-ed as young as in the U.S. The girls stay together and boys stay together."

Castellanos had time to meet with other AFS students during her stay. She didn't see too much of Ottosan as he was a businessman. However, Okaasan and Maki were able to show and experience with her Japanese life and culture. While mainly a housewife, Okaasan taught English classes at her home.

Terry Masaki, who is a senior exchange student at Grayslake High is staying with the Walters family while here in the U.S. His hometown is Fujioka, a city of 35,000 about 75 miles north of Tokyo. He shared slides of his homeland, and seemed most proud of showing the drug store his family owned and his high school pictures. With about 20 drug stores in the town, "I think my house the best," he said. His family lives behind the store.

His high school in Japan only has three grades with about 1,250 students, predominately boys. He noted that students were not allowed to drive cars and there was no driver education in the school system.

Subject matter was pretty much the same, history, chemistry, math, English, computer and physical education. One big difference was that the teachers move from classroom, rather than the students.

School starts at 8:40 a.m. and lasts until 3:05 p.m. with the students being responsible to clean up the school after school hours. They also attend school a half day on Saturday with summer vacation lasting two months.

Masaki likes American food-except pickles and red cabbage. He is especially fond of pizza and McDonalds. "Japanese pizza is poor," he declared.

English education begins in junior high, he noted. The most popular sport is baseball. He has found the winter weather pretty cold here but did enjoy building a snowman.

Masaki feels there is good in both cultures, American and Japanese. He likes America very much and is impressed with the friendliness of the people. But he does not agree with those who feel "American way is the best. There is good in both."

Masaki seems to have the feeling of many American students. His English class was presently reading Macbeth, "terrible book" he commented.

Masaki said there are vocational schools in Japan. However he plans to attend college and is considering the micro-biology field so he is taking chemistry while at Grayslake High.

Senator's Rocky Road To November Reelection

by JOHN STEINKE
(Political Columnist)

Can the Democrats recapture the U.S. Senate in the 1986 midterm elections? Of the 34 contested seats, 22 are held by Republicans, and of these, 16 of the incumbents were first elected in 1980. The GOP first-termers won with a strong assist from Ronald Reagan's coattails. In Wisconsin, freshman Republican Senator Robert W. Kasten unseated veteran Democrat Gaylord Nelson by charging that he had neglected his home state.

Senator Kasten was heavily favored to win reelection. But on Dec. 12, 1985, he was arrested in Washington, D.C., on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol, running a red light, and crossing over the center line. The senator was fined, and he has agreed to take a course for drunk driving.

The Kasten incident has generated an enormous amount of negative press attention in the Wisconsin news media. State Democrats are also ridiculing Kasten for his drunken driving offense. Peter Brock, chairman of the Milwaukee County Democratic Party, joked that he was forming a new group called DADDS: Democrats Against Drunk Driving Senators. Then Brock held up a poster-size photograph of Kasten with a red slash across it.

Now Sen. Kasten is viewed as potentially vulnerable in the Nov. 4 election. To make matters worse, the Capital Times in Madison reported that Kasten had neglected to file his income tax reforms in 1977. He blames it on a staff oversight. Then a real estate business partner, Oliver Plunkett, was charged with criminal business practices and later jailed. Although Kasten was never implicated in the wrongdoing, he was left with hundreds of thousands of dollars in debts when the partnership fell apart. He has not yet repaid all of them.

Another Kasten weakness surrounds his have withheld 10 percent of interest and dividend income for the federal treasury. He gained a victory and national fame that played well in Wisconsin. Kasten has also benefited from the inability of the Democrats to field a candidate with widespread name recognition. Democratic Governor Tony Earl has decided to seek reelection to a second term. The U.S. Senate race has attracted four Democratic candidates, including former state party chairman Matthew Flynn and Herbert Kohl, State Sen. Gary George of Milwaukee and Ed Garvey, former players' representative for the National Football League.

Steinke On Politics

coauthorship of a tax-reform plan, with Rep. Jack Kemp (R) of New York. The Kasten-Kemp proposal would remove the deductibility of state and local taxes on federal tax returns. The plan is unpopular among most taxpayers. In fact, Kasten plays down his zest for tax reform and rarely mentions it during his campaign appearances. Wisconsin Republicans remain keenly concerned about the potential political fallout from the state's farm problems. Many Wisconsin farmers are struggling with bankruptcies, foreclosures and personal tragedies. The ailing agricultural community could bode ill for Sen. Kasten's reelection prospects.

Yet Kasten possesses some major advantages. In 1983, the Senator led a filibuster to force repeal of a tax measure that would

In Wisconsin, Republican Kasten is engaged in a "barn burner" in his reelection bid. In Illinois, only a plane crash could prevent Democrat Sen. Alan J. Dixon from winning a second six-year term.

Chicago Bears Safety Honorary Chairman

The Lake County Dist. of the American Red Cross has announced the appointment of Chicago Bears Pro Bowl safety Dave Duerson as the honorary chairman of its 1986 Swim-A-Cross event.

Duerson, a Lake County resident, admits he accepted this position for personal reasons. "I had a good friend die in a drowning accident several years ago," he explains. "If I can support a program to keep that from happening to someone else, I will."

Swim-A-Cross is an annual special event that gives local swimmers an opportunity to raise funds for Red Cross. Swimmers enlist sponsors who pledge money based on the number of laps completed by the swimmer. This year's event will take place in July at various pools and beaches throughout the county.

"Red Cross has an awful lot of good programs for the community and their water safety program is just one of them," says Duerson. "Swim-A-Cross is a great way for kids to get involved. It's fun for the swimmers, and serves a good purpose also."

The funds from Swim-A-Cross go toward the continued support of many programs and services in the community. Besides the swimming programs, Red Cross is involved in disaster relief, first aid, health education, blood services and much more.

Pools, park districts and swimmers who would like to get involved in Swim-A-Cross may do so by calling the Red Cross office at (312) 949-1000.

Get Ready For Barn Dance

An old time barn dance will be held Saturday night March 29, 7:30 p.m. at the Park Dist. Building, 42 South Seymour, downtown Grayslake.

This dance is one of a series of barn dances held the last Saturday of the month to be presented by the Grayslake Park Dist.

The old time dances will be called by "Uncle" Roy Reinholds with live music provided by Ron Brown on fiddle and his wife, Sandy, on guitar. They will play old time tunes that have been danced to by Americans of yesteryear at grange halls, old barns and big city lodge halls and ballrooms.

According to Uncle Roy, barn dancing differs from modern "Mainstream" and "Plus" square dancing in that there is always live music at barn dances and the dances tend to be more traditional. When needed the old time dances and figures are "walked through" before dancing.

In this way, the newcomer to barn dancing will be able to dance along with the more experienced dancer. Costume is not important in barn dancing. Matching ladies dresses and men's shirts are not necessary—many women come to the dance wearing jeans.

All the people of Grayslake and surrounding communities are invited to attend these Saturday night barn dances. All ages with or without square dancing experience are welcome.

Come to the barn dance and enjoy a folk tradition that people of North America have enjoyed since the founding of their country. The admission is $3.

For more information about barn dancing, call Uncle Roy, (312) 223-2081.

Horak:

from Horak.

Norgle threw out a request by Fox Lake Mayor William Dam for an additional $176,000, and chastised Dam for being less than cooperative with the government investigation.

Raphaelson said that Dam had not provided proper documentation of the overcharges even though his office had been requesting them for six months.

Dam has responded by saying that the only request the village had for information came on Feb. 22 and that the village responded with the information, hand delivered by Fox Lake Police Chief Joe Semasko, within six hours.

"We put the entire village on hold," explained Dam.

Hamlin In Harvard

Mary Lynn Hamlin, daughter of James and Carol Hamlin of 1200 Main St., Antioch, was a member of the College of Saint Benedict/Saint John's University delegation at the Harvard Model United Nations Conference held in Boston, Mass., February 19-23. Hamlin is a senior majoring in government and English at CSB.

The CSB/SJU delegation, representing the nation of Madagascar, received an award for outstanding representation at the conference. This was the first year a delegation from CSB/SJU participated in the Harvard conference. The purpose of the conference was to demonstrate the potential of the UN to serve as a forum for the discussion and resolution of international issues, and to show the obstacles that block the realization of this potential. Another objective was to show how the UN can solve problems and why it often fails to do so.

The CSB/SJU delegation, made up of 16 student members, will be attending the Wisconsin National Model United Nations Conference to be held April 10-13 at River Falls, Wis. The delegation has won top awards at the tri-state conferences in the past three years.

Sequoit Grapplers Take Third

The Sequoit varsity wrestling team finished its season with a 17-7 dual meet record, ending-up third in both the North Suburban Conference and the regional tournament.

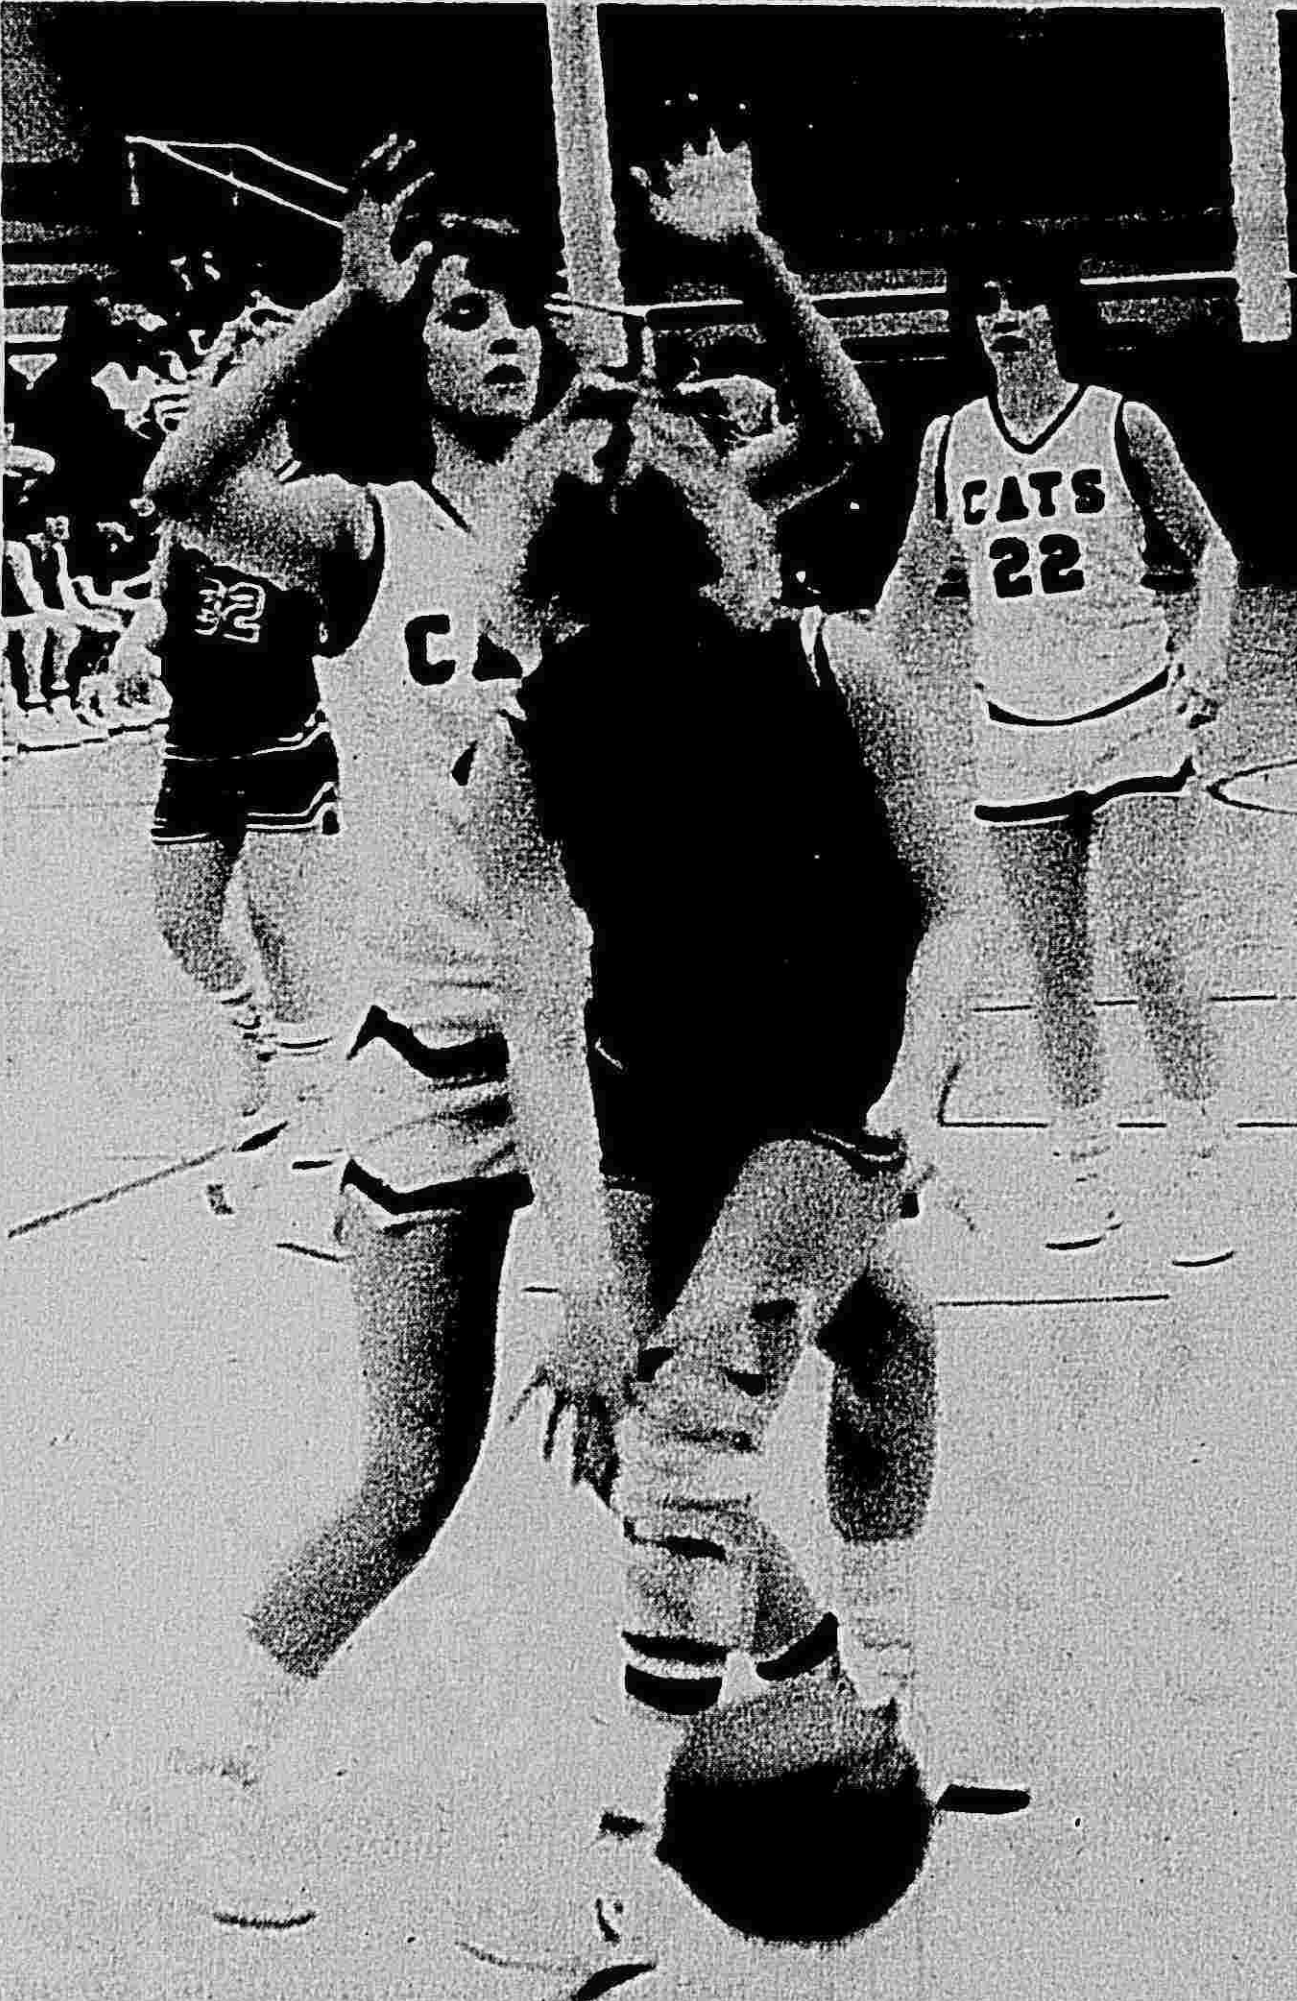

Coach Ted DeRouse was more than pleased with his team's record especially in light of the team's inexperience and youth.

"The highlight of our season was getting five regional champs that advanced to the sectionals.

That is the second best record the high school has ever had in wrestling," said DeRouse.

Sequoit grappling stars were heavyweight Bob Johnson, Tim Tointon, 105, Billy Eves, 112, Jim Smith, 185 and Todd Veltman at 126.

Johnson and Veltman are seniors, but the rest are slated to be back next year, giving DeRouse a chance for even a better season with a more experienced team.

Sectional Action

Kim Alfano goes for a loose ball during the first round of the Waukegan East sectionals. Unfortunately the Sequoits lost to the Libertyville Wildcats to finish second to this team in the North Suburban Conference with a 13-5 record.

Win Award

Cool Dog

Spike is this week's Lakeland Newspaper Pet of the Week. Here, he sits with his friend Kelly Pramshafer during one of his rare calm moods. Spike is usually running around the neighborhood making friends or playing with his master. He's pretty cool in that he can shake hands, give hugs, fetch a newspaper, throw beer cans away, etc. Even though he's only two years old, he's very mature for his age. If you would like to introduce your pet to Lakeland readers, contact the editor of this newspaper.

Ban The Blinds?

After a Chain O' Lakes snowmobiler was fatally injured in a crash with an abandoned duck blind there was a hue and cry for something to be done. Even the hunters themselves admit that the blinds constitute obstructions to other recreation seekers after hunting season is over.

Recognizing a threat to their hunting rights, hunters are showing good sense in coming forward with suggestions on how the general public can deal with the problem of duck blind dangers. As a group, hunters and gun users are used to dealing with regulating bodies. They are effective lobbyists and they know their way around the halls of government.

For a starting point in regulating the use of duck blinds, we would like to suggest that any stance considering duck blinds as anything other than temporary is intolerable. Certainly, where navigable waters are involved even the consideration of a semi-permanent blind is unthinkable.

Confusing jurisdictions add to the problem. Fortunately, the newly formed Chain O' Lakes-Fox River Water Management Agency is showing a willingness to get involved. If the hunters adopt a self policing attitude and adopt temporary duck blinds in navigable waters during legal hunting season, a total "ban the blinds" movement can be avoided.

Belts Saving Lives

The substantial 23.3 percent drop in automobile occupant fatalities this February from the five-year average should reinforce Illinois citizens' support of our safety belt use law.

Lois Robinson, executive director of the Illinois Coalition for Safety Belt Use, reported that provisional figures from the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT) showing 56 occupant deaths this February, a 23.3 percent decrease from the five-year average 73 deaths for February and a 21.1 percent decrease from the 71 killed in February, 1985, should give further impetus to the growing support for the safety belt law that is demonstrated in the statewide survey conducted for the Coalition in January.

The survey, which compared attitudes on the law and safety belt use this January with a similar survey conducted in April, 1985, indicates that:

-71 percent of Illinois residents currently support the law and believe it is helping to save lives, a 12.6 percent (8 percentage point) increase over the 63 percent who said they supported the law in April, 1985.

-72 percent believe the law should be strictly enforced, an increase of 5.8 percent (4 percentage points) over the 68 percent who supported strict enforcement in 1985. This same 72 percent believe the law should be continued.

-42 percent claim to always use safety belts, a major increase over the 17 percent who claimed to always use belts last April. 73 percent say they urge passengers to buckle up, an almost 50 percent (24 percentage point) increase over the 49 percent who said they suggested use last April.

Depends On Viewpoint

One of the most abused and bantered around statistics in Illinois is the unemployment rate. That's only natural in a key industrial state with a volatile labor market.

Politicians revel in employment figures, using them to their personal advantage. Consider these statistics and how they fit the political spectrum:

*As of January, nearly 5.23 million Illinoisans were employed—the most in the state's history.

*In December, 1985, the Illinois unemployment rate totalled 8.3 percent, 1.6 percent greater than the 6.7 percent natural unemployment rate.

As the campaign moves into high gear for the 1986 general election, without doubt Gov. James Thompson will be talking about the former figure while his Democratic challenger, former Sen. Adlai Stevenson will be dwelling on the latter. It's all a point of view.

Anyone can be an armchair prognosticator with the raw facts. Consider these:

In December 1985, 472,000 Illinoisans were searching for work, including 287,000 men and 185,000 women. Of that total, the percentage of unemployed who were black was much greater than their share of the population—168 thousand or 35.6 percent compared to 292 thousand or 61.9 percent who were white—reflecting the serious economic problems still faced by many in Illinois' urban areas.

Of the unemployed, 169,000 or 35.8 percent were out of work four weeks or less, 142,000 or 30.1 percent five to 14 weeks, and 161,000 or 34.1 percent 15 weeks or more. Studies have shown that a substantial number of individuals unemployed during a particular month were not unemployed in the following month. This large degree of turnover means that far more than the 472,000 Illinoisans unemployed during December experienced a period of unemployment at some time during the past year.

Some 3.003 million adults in Illinois were not actively seeking income-producing work—over half of those, 1.547 million, were occupied in maintaining a household. In particular, some 1.511 million women maintained homes rather than enter the labor market. For the rest of the adults outside the labor market, 482,000 were attending school, 121,000 were unable to work; and 853,000 were not seeking jobs for other reasons.

We're not sure what all these figures add up to, except that while there are a lot of people working in Illinois, too many persons still are unemployed. You take it from here.

Off-Year, Farm Belt Gains Seen For Demos

By JOHN STEINKE
(Political Columnist)

In an exclusive interview with Lakeland Newspapers, Ill. Sen. Alan J. Dixon offered the following observations. Democratic Sen. Dixon is running for reelection for a second 6-year term in the Nov. 6 general election. He is unopposed in the March 18 primary.

1. NICARAGUA: Dixon expressed support of the Reagan administration's policy to destabilize the Sandinistas in Nicaragua. The Sandinistas came to power when they overthrew the 46-year-old Somoza rule in July, 1979. Sen. Dixon supports the funding of the Contras, who are committed to the destruction of the Sandinista regime. The Contras are counterrevolutionary forces. Dixon asserted: "We would win down there with congressional support for the Contras." He asserted that Sandinista leader, Daniel Ortega, "is a Communist and a Marxist. I am ashamed that former Democratic President Jimmy Carter would have his photograph taken with a known Communist like Ortega," Sen. Dixon stated that he opposed a U.S. invasion of Nicaragua. He claimed that Congress had failed to provide the Contras with the necessary aid to destroy the pro-Communist government in Managua.

2. REELECTION CAMPAIGN: Conceding that everybody is beatable," Sen. Dixon contended that his reelection would help the state of Illinois. Dixon maintained, "Seniority adds immeasurably to the service of U.S. Senators."

3. THE ILL. ECONOMY: Dixon admitted that Illinois economy suffered because we don't have a sizeable industry with defense contracts. He observed: "We don't build airplanes, ships or tanks."

4. 1986 OFF-YEAR ELECTIONS: This year, the country will elect 34 Senators. Twenty-two Republican seats are at stake in the 1986 elections. Sen. Dixon predicted that the Democrats will recapture control of the Senate. He observed that the pattern of off-year elections is for the President's party to lose seven Senate seats in a second mid-term election. Dixon said: "I don't know where the gains will come from, but we will win control of the Senate."

Commentary

5. REAGAN'S POPULARITY: Sen. Dixon contended that Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower (1953-1961) "was a father figure to the country, who didn't have any political enemies." The Senator conceded that President Ronald Reagan is an extremely popular Chief Executive. Unlike Eisenhower, Reagan, however, "has some groups who hate him: farmers and blacks."

6. THE FARM REVOLT: Dixon described a recent conversation with Republican Sen. James Abdnor from South Dakota on a plane flight from Washington to the heartland. Abdnor confided to Dixon: "What am I going to tell my constituents? How can I defend an increase in military spending when President Reagan wants to cut farm programs by 16 percent?" Sen. Abdnor lamented to Dixon: "I am going to have to oppose the President's budget to the voters."

Sen. Dixon stated that Abdnor had defeated Democratic Sen. George McGovern in the 1980 elections when Ronald Reagan won his first landslide victory for the presidency. This year, Sen. Abdnor has a strong Democratic opponent in the personage of U.S. Rep. Thomas A. Daschle. Dixon predicted that "the farm revolt" would benefit Democratic candidates in the traditionally GOP farm belt states."

Letter to Editor

Paid Announcement

Editor:

Although I must admit Mr. Steinke does bring up some very interesting points as to our selection of candidates for the Dist. 4 County Board seats, his final opinion regarding Mr. Anderson does sound just a little biased.

In his closing statement Mr. Steinke seems to single out Mr. Anderson when he writes, "Don't vote for Pat Anderson." Now, be realistic Mr. Steinke, what of the other five candidates? It almost appears from the article that Mr. Steinke suggests our society be a little less than democratic. Because a young citizen has an ambition with every right handed down to us by our constitution does not qualify him as a Benedict Arnold or Judas. Just maybe, Mr. Steinke, the time was right and just maybe Mr. Anderson feels that he could do an admirable job. Furthermore Mr. Steinke, being that you are so well versed in Political Science and appear to know all of the right qualifications of a candidate, why haven't you provided us with someone to vote for who can represent us on the County Board adequately.

Instead, Mr. Steinke, you tell us we have candidates, but absolutely no choice, and out of the choice category we are to be sure and not vote for Pat Anderson. Please allow us the decency of deciding who to vote for on our own. Your article almost reminds us of being, "a paid for political announcement."

Using Quality Time To Save Family

by GLORIA DAVIS

Because of the increase in the number of working women, especially mothers, and also the increase in the number of single parent families with women as the head of the household, parents seem to have less and less time to spend with their children.

Information gained from Irene Green of the University of Illinois Extension Service in Grays Lake, relates that all children, especially the 15 million "Latchkey Children," need parents to spend time with them.

"Latchkeys" are those children that return from school everyday and let themselves into an empty house where they will spend some solitary three or more hours until Mom and/or Dad return from work.

Child-care experts say that "spending time with family members is one of the most important indicators of a strong family," and they also state that the critical time to build meaningful relationships between parents and children occurs only during the few short years that they are growing up under the parents' roof.

Eliminating all the extra hours that today's children and parents spend away from home when involved in after school, social and recreation activities, and adding up the few hours left before bedtime on weekdays, even with what's left on Saturdays and Sundays, the actual hours available for "family time," are few and far between.

The experts advise that the only way to manage to get that all-important family time in is by planning ahead for it and making sure it happens.

The old adage that, no matter how busy, people can usually find time for the things they really want to find time for, applies in the case of "family time."

Green's report, under the heading of "How Much Time Is Enough Time?" says that that question has individual answers dependent on individual families.

In all the advice given to much absent parents, mandatorily included is the phrase, "It's not the quantity of time parents spend with their children but the quality of that time that counts."

Quality in anything logically cannot be achieved by spending five minutes a day in its development.

According to the extension service report, quality time is based on attitudes and feelings. Families that have a quality relationship have a feeling of high self-worth and have direct, clear and specific communication with each other.

Families with quality ties to each other operate under rules that are flexible, human, appropriate and subject to change and their links to the world outside are hopeful and open.

While listing the developing of effective communication with one another as the base and most important factor in bringing family members close together, the extension service advises that family members get in the habit of using direct eye contact and the art of touching one another on a day to day basis.

Practicing letting Mom, Dad, brother and sister know that you care about them and are interested in them will also tighten family ties.

Turning routine time spent together into quality time is another idea which involves little things like singing, while working around the house, working in close proximity to one another so communication is possible, making a game out of work, and planning surprises for other family members now and then.

Paying compliments to each other when they are due and offering advice judiciously are also on the list of ways to create quality time together.

Families that are interested in one another, take time to listen to each other. They leave each one solve their own problems, unless asked for help and they accept, and try to understand, the feelings of others, even when they are the opposite of one's own.

The indiscriminate use of the television set in lieu of interaction with one another tops the list of quality time factors.

The extension service summarizes its recommendations on the creation of quality time by saying that quality time spent with family members, means making sure that enough time is spent as a family and that that time draws the family closer together. The skills needed in developing the interaction necessary can be gained by anyone who really cares about spending quality time with their family.

Man's Best Friend Aids In Jobs

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

Have you ever thought about how many types of working dogs there are and all the different things they do.

Most of us think of the guide dog first. Did you know that dogs have guided blind people for centuries? A seeing eye dog must be of calm temperament, intelligent and large enough to influence his master's movements. Usually female dogs are used as they are less distracted by other dogs. The German shepherd group and the collie seem to be best suited. Sometimes the lab retriever is used.

In the beginning, pups are taken care of by families and basic training is started at a young age. The blind person is also trained so he and the dog can learn to work as a team.

Recently, dogs have been trained to assist the deaf.

Army dogs are used to sniff out arms and explosives. They are also trained not to touch them in case they are booby-trapped.

Some of the working breeds serve well as rescue dogs. They search for missing persons and can even save a drowning person.

Some dogs are very useful for mountain rescue work. The large St. Bernard is one of them. He can move across the snow faster than man, and can sniff out a person who is buried under piles of snow. When he barks loudly, it is a signal for the rescue team to come and help.

There are also dogs which are cattle drovers. This group includes the St. Bernard, German schnauzer and the Belgian Bouvier des Flandres. These dogs also help pull carts in many areas of Europe. They are cheaper than horses.

herds of domestic animals. He must have a high degree of intelligence since his job is to protect the herd from preying animals and be aware of the problems that arise in herding from one place to another.

For thousands of years, dogs have been used all over the world to herd sheep, cattle and other livestock. The dog must work closely with the shepherd and obey each whistle and voice command. Often the dog must work on his own. There are times when two or more dogs are needed to work together to control a large herd. When sheep are crowded together to squeeze through a small opening in a pen or shipping yard, the backing dog does his thing. He walks on the backs of sheep to keep them moving along.

Shepherd dogs vary in size and temperament. They usually come from the collie or German shepherd family. There are also the Shetland, English and Belgian sheep-dogs, Hungarian pulik, French briard, Welsh corgis and Rottweiler.

There are many jobs a dog must do to control a herd. A well-trained dog can handle many animals, make them go where he wants, round up strays and deliver a whole herd to an exact point. These dogs are valued and indispensable in controlling a herd.

Some hunting dogs can be adapted to sports. An example of a dog used for racing, is the Russian wolfhound.

Dogs can be trained to entertain at circuses or to act in tv shows.

The dog has offered so much to man. His tasks have become endless.

The next time you see a dog doing something to cause you to say, "What a dumb dog," ask yourself how dumb he really is. Examples have been presented to show the intelligence dogs possess. If a dog is well-trained, he can do amazing things.

Pet Wise

They alert the person when someone is at the door, the baby is crying, etc.

There are several large breeds which serve well as guard dogs. They are used by the police, army and security firms. They perform important duties. Many people living alone or in certain areas have a guard dog for security.

The Doberman pinscher or German shepherd are most commonly used. However, almost any dog can be trained for guard work. The dog must be big, agile and willing to fight. He must obey and be totally loyal to his master. He must be fit so he can chase and hold intruders.

In the Arctic, the Samoyed is used as an all-purpose dog. He is used for herding reindeer, hunting, guarding and of course, for pulling their sledges. He is completely adapted to the Arctic weather. The Eskimo husky is widely used in Alaska and the best-known breed. Other breeds that may be used there are the Spitz, the Norwegian elkhound and the Chinese chow.

The Alaskan Malamute is the finest sled dog since he is the largest and strongest. He is half wolf and half Eskimo husky.

The sheepdog is found in every part of the world where people farm and keep

Bigger, Faster Wildkits Crush Carmel's Dream

by STEVE PETERSON

The gymnasium was in the lower levels of Elgin High School.

And it was quiet, very quiet.

Carmel boys basketball coach Frank Belmont was giving the speech he hoped he would not have to give. Belmont was consoling his team after Carmel's 71-65 loss to a much taller and quicker Evanston team March 11.

"This team got here because of a lot of heart," Belmont said of his charges.

Still, the pain of being denied a trip to the Class AA Elite Eight at the Super-sectional level for the second straight year showed as Belmont discussed how midnight struck against his Cinderella team.

"It's more difficult this time. Last year you could sit back and see the wheels beginning to fall off in the middle of the third quarter," Belmont said of his team's 71-48 loss last year to Hershey.

"But this year it was tougher because if we played a little better fourth quarter..."

Ifs aside, Carmel, by the end of the month, can look back on the 18-12 season which featured regional and sectional championships with pride.

"They should be awful proud of themselves," Belmont said.

What did the Corsairs in was Evanston's fourth-quarter explosion thanks to a powerful inside game and taking advantage of any Carmel miscues.

Evanston ran off 23 points in the final period as the Wildkits got 28 points from 6-5 center Tim Brown. Brown finished the game making 14-of-18 shots from the field and seven rebounds. Brian Brown and Bob Best came off the bench to score 12 each for Evanston and guard Michael Jones had 10.

"We knew he was an outstanding player," Belmont said of Tim Brown. "But they have talented athletes all the way down the line," Belmont said.

"Just their athletic ability," senior guard Rod Whittier said when asked about what impressed him about Evanston. Whittier led Carmel with 21 points, playing in his final game as a Corsair.

"I thought we got a little bit impatient on offense," Belmont said of the fourth quarter.

Belmont liked his team's chances when the fourth quarter began with Carmel trailing just 48-46.

"At 48-46 I was not displeased with the tempo," Belmont said.

Sebastian Coleman's lone basket of the game out Evanston ahead by four at the 7:19 mark.

When George France, who finished with 11 points, netted a three-point play with 6:47 left, Carmel was within one at 50-49.

That was as close as Carmel would get.

A 10-4 run by Evanston quickly decided the outcome.

Tim Brown, who seems to score his points in spurts, did it again, scoring three field goals to go along with two by Brian Brown.

That boosted Evanston's lead to 60-53 with 4:17 left.

Two Rob Graham free throws brought Carmel to five at 60-55. The Corsairs then had a chance to pull to within three but Evanston's Sid Pointer's steal with 3:12 left iced the win.

"That steal was critical," Belmont said.

The Evanston lead reached 10 points twice before the Wildkits let Graham and Whittier score uncontested baskets in the final 10 seconds.

In Evanston, the Corsairs were facing a team with a front line of 6-5, 6-6, 6-6.

"The matchups looked a little ridiculous," Belmont said.

Evanston broke open a close first quarter on seven straight points from Tim Brown to take a 17-8 lead. Carmel fought back, cutting the lead to 17-14 after one.

Carmel then played its best basketball in the second quarter.

The Corsairs first led at 20-19 on a Peterson layup. Two Graham free throws made it 22-19. Carmel's lead grew to seven points on two occasions, the last on a Whittier basket with 11 seconds left.

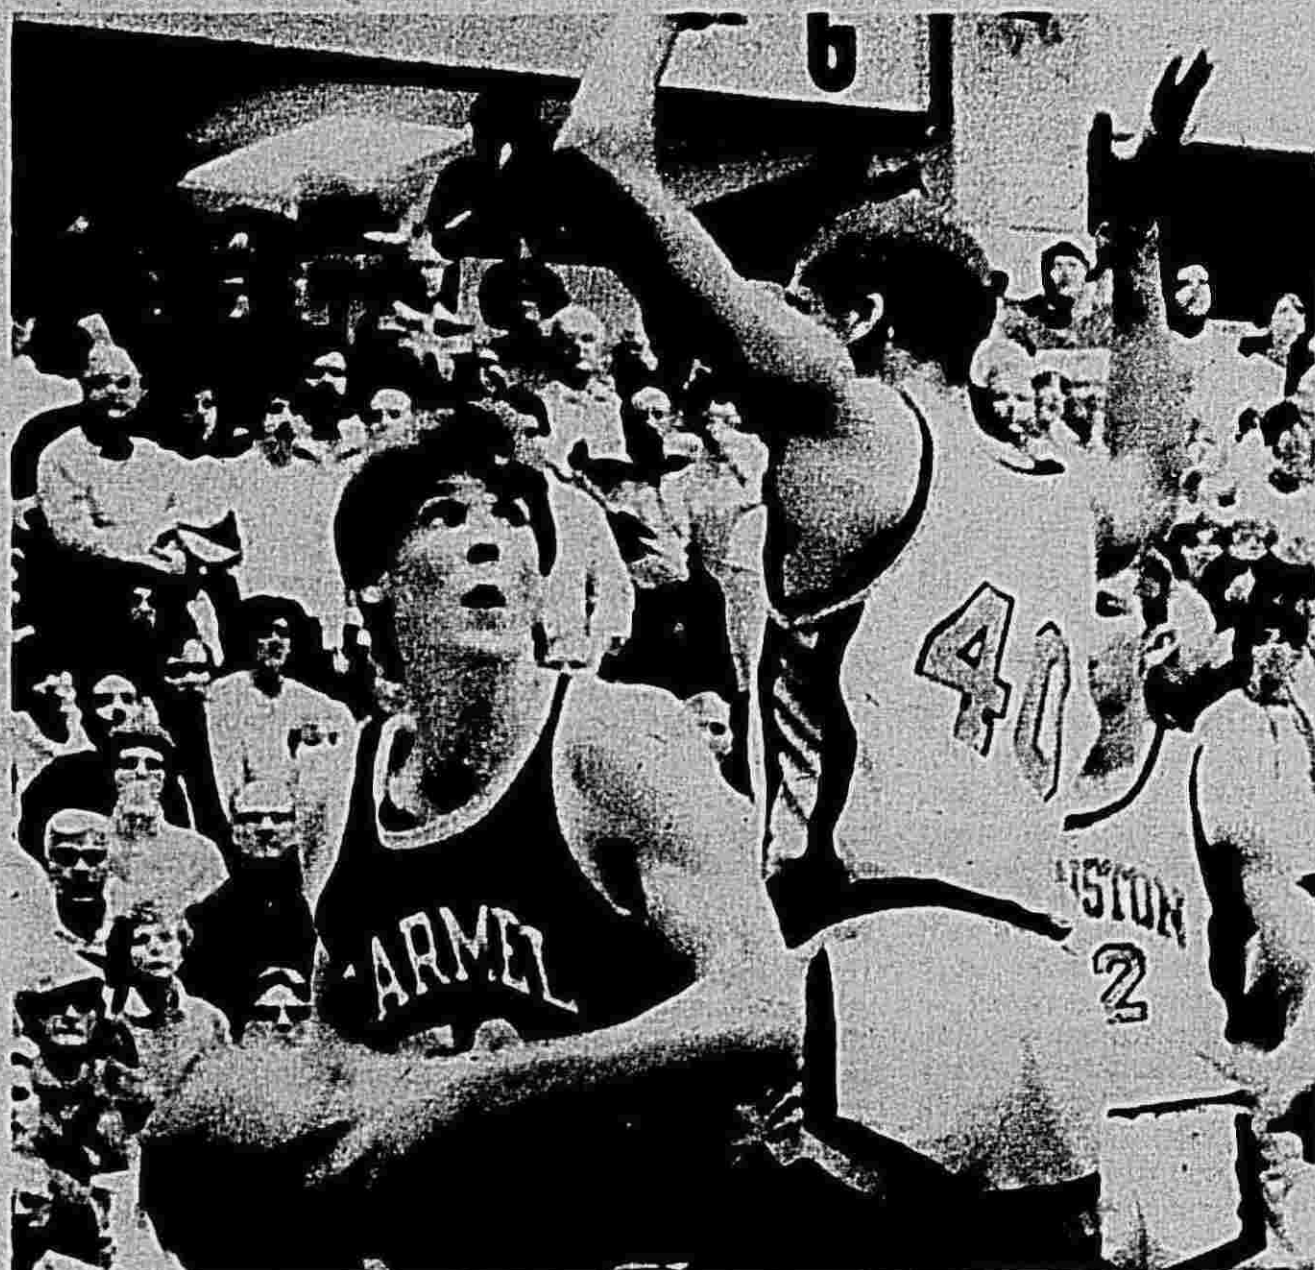

But Evanston's Jones hit a 17 footer as the buzzer sounded, cutting the lead to five at halftime.

Carmel made 9-for-13 shots in the quarter.

Rodney Lambright's 15-footer 30 seconds into the second half made it 36-29 Carmel and the Corsairs' fans had visions of Assembly Hall dancing in their heads.

A 17-3 Evanston run sent the Wildkits into the lead as Carmel was held to one shot per possession.

Carmel never really recovered from the spree, and watched the state finals on TV.

Gymnasts Expect Better Year

Antioch High School's gymnastic team wrapped up its season with a 1-6 North Suburban Conference record and a 3-7 overall record, ending up in fifth place out of seven teams.

Although this record may not be too impressive on paper, Coach Debbie Rummel is proud of her very young team with no seniors.

Top on the list are juniors Christine Johnson and Sara Hamlin who both competed on the all-around level, working on the parallel bars, the floor, the vault and the beam.

Rummel expects next year to be a different story since her two stars, Hamlin and Johnson will be more experienced, as will the many freshmen she had this year.

Grant Awards Players For Outstanding Play

All-Academic Team and Rich Ruesch, Dirk Bengston, Jeff Bieniasz, Marc Borton, and Ron Richford were cited for the honorable mention category. Mike McDonald received recognition for a single game high of 12 assists in one game.

Coach Maple concluded the awards night ceremony with praise for his coaching staff, the players and managers, and cheerleaders. Thanks was noted for the parents and community's support of the basketball program.

Groth Waiting For Next Year

by DANG O'SHEA

After ending the Northwest Suburban Conference basketball season in fifth place with a 6-8 record, Grayslake coach Greg Groth is looking forward to next year.

"We only had five juniors this year and Andrew Flood is the only one with starting experience. There's a good group of sophomores coming in next year, but we'll have to slow the ball down," he said.

The Rams were 10-14 overall.

Groth rated unbalanced scoring as the team's biggest weakness and defense as the main strength. "We were strong defensively, and we'll be working hard on defense and rebounding in the future."

On awards night March 10, Tom Castino, a 5-8 senior guard, was named team most valuable player. He also was chosen as a co-captain by his teammates and was a unanimous choice on the all-conference team.

Castino led the Rams in seven categories: total points (338), steals (45), assists (68), field goals attempted (360), field goals made (126), free throws attempted (134), and free throws made (86).

Center-forward Bill Sangbusch, a 6-3 senior, was second to Castino in scoring with 161 points. He also led the team in rebounds with 152. He received the "Hustler" award. That award, according to Groth, goes to the player who showed the most team spirit and worked the hardest to improve his game.

Co-captain Kelly Bye, a 5-8 senior guard, was third in scoring with 140 points and second in steals with 27.

Castino and Bye played together for seven years, dating back to sixth grade at St. Gilbert School.

Jeff West, a 6-3 senior forward, had 138 points and the highest field goal percentage on the team, 41 percent. He was second in assists with 47.

Other seniors on the team were John Lui, Daryl Mackenthun, Randy Reidel, and Ken Melton. Lui, in his third year on the varsity, had the best free throw percentage at 72 percent.

Grayslake's sophomore team was 7-16 overall this year behind coach Troy Harper.

Freshman forward Timm West led the team with 309 points, 165 rebounds, 55 assists and 47 steals. Sean Mauritz was second in scoring with 131 points, followed by Pete Lupori with 112.

CLC Ends Season

The College of Lake County's men's basketball team thought it had reason to celebrate.

A defensive stand in the closing seconds and a ball knocked out of bounds apparently gave CLC a 70-69 win over Illinois Valley March 8.

But a foul call and two Illinois Valley free throws sent the Lancers packing with a heartbreaking 71-70 loss in a second-round game of the Highland Community College regional.

"We all thought we had the game won. It was somewhat of a delayed call. Their player did not even know he was fouled. But you have to give him credit. He made the free throws," CLC coach Bruce Smith said.

CLC trailed Illinois Valley by nine points at halftime and by five with four minutes left in the second half.

A basket by Art Baker put

CLC ahead.

Illinois Valley missed a free throw with nine seconds left and CLC ahead 70-69.

Despite the loss, CLC did have several accomplishments to look back on for 1985-86.

The Lancers finished 22-10 overall and were undefeated in claiming their Skyway Conference championship. CLC won its own sectional to advance to the Highland regional in Freeport. Triton won the regional.

"It's the way these players complimented each other that made the season successful," Smith said.

Greg Washington and Art Baker both set new CLC single-season scoring records. Washington, a flashy 6-foot-2-inch sophomore, registered 723 points while Baker, a North Chicago graduate scored 657 points. That topped John Glass' 1979-80 scoring mark of 611 points.

Smith said the team did not set any goals until late in the season.

"We did not set any goals until after we had beaten Wright the second time. We had two more Skyway games left and we wanted to win those two to go undefeated. The most important game was in the sectional against Harper to get to state," Smith said.

The Lancers have five first-year players eligible to return. They are Warren graduates Todd Gordon and Dave Sitz, Waukegan East's David Tucker and Vince Moore and Antioch's Ed Poulos.

Sitz is the tallest of the returning players at 6-4.

Smith is hitting the recruiting trail, contacting coaches about their seniors who may wish to play at CLC.

"The talent is out there, we just have to get them to come here," Smith said.

All Income Isn't Taxed

According to the IRS, the majority of questions received during the filing period, Jan. 1 through April 15, are from taxpayers who try very hard to legitimately meet their federal tax obligations. They want answers to their questions about itemized deductions, tax credits and exemptions.

The IRS is interested in seeing to it that taxpayers take advantage of everything that they are legally entitled to claim. IRS is also interested in seeing that taxpayers report only the income that is required to be reported on a tax return.

Taxpayers must report income received from just about every source. Sources of income are broad ranging. Income can result from wages, alimony and door prizes. It can also result from wagering, forgiven debts, bartering and even from illegal activities.

Just like there are deductible and non-deductible expenses, there is taxable, non-taxable and only partially taxable income. Examples of non-taxable income are gifts, inheritances and income received from certain investments. Income that is only partially taxable may be from benefits received for social security and Tier I railroad retirement, unemployment benefits, and proceeds from the sale of a residence.

The IRS has a 24-page publication that discusses the various types of taxable, non-taxable and partially taxable income. Persons interested in additional information should call the IRS office and ask for a free copy of Publication 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income.

McNally is one of the more than 4,600 owners and/or managers who have graduated from IDQ's national training center since its inception in 1968.

Bad News Is Good News When Interest Falls

by GARY S. MEYERS and ROBERT E. STENBECK

More cash is becoming available for investment in the American economy. And when more cash is available (competing to be loaned out), borrowers pay less.

It doesn't matter whether you are General Motors financing a new plant or Joe and Sally Average buying a new house. The effect of supply (in this case money) and demand (for loans) works every time. Here's where and why the cash is available:

—Between March 1 and April 15 IRA account contributions for 1985 should reach $25 billion. About 60 percent of the money will flow into the stock market and the balance into savings certificates at financial institutions.

—Foreign investors are now investing billions of dollars in U.S. Treasury instruments (savings certificates issued directly by Uncle Sam).

When President Reagan took office, foreign investors buying "Treasures" were taxed 30 percent on the interest earned, discouraging investment.

But, in September of 1984 the Reagan administration removed the tax provision and the money started to pour in. Thus began the decline in interest rates we now enjoy.

Enter Japan. Until recently, Japanese banking regulations severely restricted their investing in debt instruments. However, in late 1985 Japanese regulation changes allowed their banks the latitude to invest 10 percent of their assets in Uncle Sam. This month, the regulations change again, allowing a whopping total of 30 percent of their assets to move west.

which will be making billions of dollars available for investment.

IN REVIEW: News of lower interest rates sent the stock market soaring. Economic news that the economy is still maintaining its slow but steady growth (called sluggish by the pessimists) gave further indication that interest rates would not rise, and in fact may go lower.

Yields on U.S. Treasury instruments continued to move downward and have not slowed for the past two weeks.

The pattern of consumer savings and lending interest rates followed that of Treasury instruments, though the decline in consumer rates is much more gradual.

More than 60 percent of the institutions surveyed this week dropped rates. Consumers today will find the average interest rates of 10.26 percent for a 30-year fixed-rate mortgage, 13.77 percent on a home improvement loan, and 12.62 percent for a 48-month new car loan.

THE FORECAST: American consumers and businesses will have a good summer. By the July-August vacation season The Meyers Report expects; —Interest rates for savings and lending instruments are close to the bottom, but will stay down for months.

—Interest rates on fixed-rate mortgages should hit 9.25 percent, with luck possibly a bit lower. We haven't seen a better time to buy or refinance a house in 10 years.

—Car loans available from banks and savings associations should fall well into the 10 percent range.

—Regular gasoline should be priced at 75 cents a gallon.

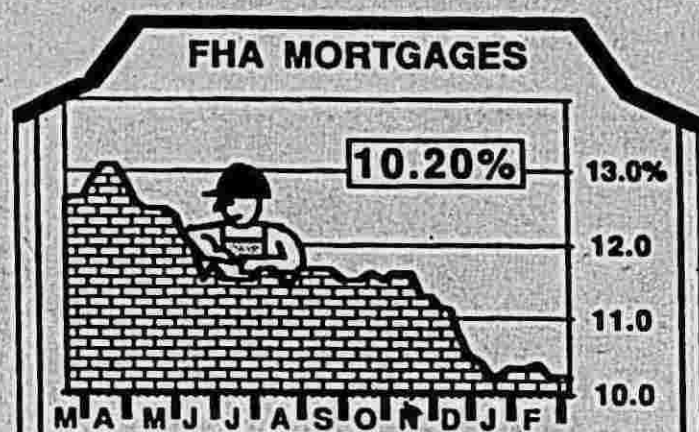

—Inflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index, should be minimal for nine months or longer.

—Stock market prices will remain at their present levels, without a sharp decline or correction below 1675 on the Dow Jones Industrial Average. On the high side the Dow could reach 1825 or higher by this fall.

—Look for the six-month Treasury bill to show a rate of 6 percent, while the long Treasury bond (30-year bond) could fall to 7.50 percent before we see an upturn in rates.

Business Seminar April 1

The benefits of starting a business within an incubator will be spelled-out during an April 1 seminar offered by McHenry County College.

A business incubator is an alternative for a business just starting up. The new business receives space in a building that offers low rent, centralized services, flexible leases and management advice.

Incubators provide an environment where public and private resources combine to meet the needs of small business during the critical stages of development. Communities directly benefit from incubators by the transformation of business property into productive "business centers."

The seminar, "Starting a Business Within an Incubator," will provide answers to questions about how incubators work, the feasibility of incubators, location and how to develop a successful facility.

This program has been developed through the joint efforts of McHenry County College; the Illinois Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs; the Small Business Development Centers of Northern Illinois University, Kishwaukee College and Sauk Valley College; and the U.S. Small Business Administration.

The seminar will be held at September's Restaurant in Crystal Lake on Tuesday, April 1 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. The fee is $25, which includes lunch. Register by calling Rebecca Strong at McHenry County College, (815) 455-3700, ext. 251.

The Japanese have billions and billions of dollars. Of the world's 20 largest banks, nine are Japanese (only three are American), and those nine alone have assets of almost one trillion dollars. This opens $300 billion for investment here.

The Japanese have reason to invest. Recent rate cuts in Japan have reduced their discount rate to 4 percent (ours was just reduced to 7 percent) making our interest rates very attractive, though they seem low to us.

European industrial nations have made similar rate cuts, also keeping our rates attractive for them.

Oil continues to decline in price and is now selling for $11 a barrel, down from $32 only a few months ago. The effect is to reduce the price of everything that we use, eat and wear. The effect is great enough to hide, if not bury, the inflationary effects of interest rate declines and looser credit.

Lower oil prices also mean lower fuel bills,

'See America' May Be 1986 Travel Theme

"See America" may be our 1986 travel theme. Indications among travel planners and agents are that big budget trips to far-away places rest on the back burner this year.

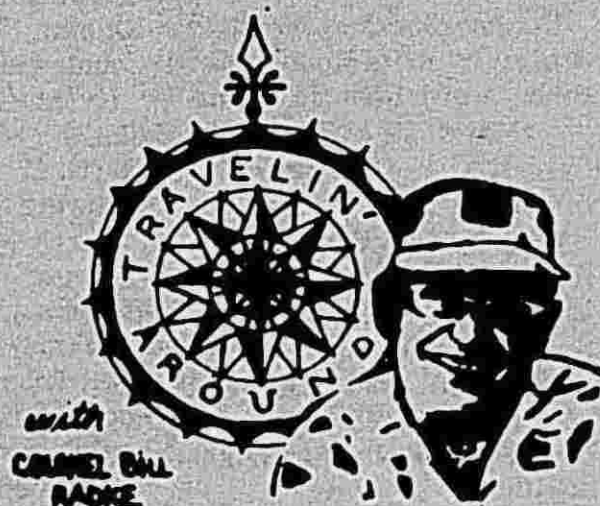

Why? Due in part to leveling of the American dollar on the international exchange, but mostly to political unrest abroad, which creates dangers for strangers.

Confidence shattering occurrences, such as bombings, air hi-jacking and tour ship pirating, have dampened U.S. visitor enthusiasm. Though deemed necessary, bolstered numbers of heavily armed guards at air and water arrival points do little to reassure vacationing pleasure seekers.

Approximately six and a half million American tourists visited Europe last year. However, current seasonal bookings among cruise ships and travel agents are down some 30-50 percent. England, a favored destination for U.S. travelers, seems unimpaired by continental unrest. While Americans constitute nearly a quarter of British Isle visitors, our "big spenders" produce over half of England's tourism income.

Britain's famous unarmed "Bobbies", photographed at London's airport carrying automatic weapons, has shaken the confidence of some visitors, despite the absence of any major problems.

Fortunately, our United States of America are crammed with scenics, history and memorabilia-Americana. Touring America aids our economy at a time when national budget balancing gets headlines. "Play in America" may become as popular a slogan as "Buy American." Many travelers have seen enough of foreign unrest to finally acknowledge, we live in a truly great country that gets even better when supported by domestic tourism.

Boat And Resort Show At Arlington Park

Beginning Friday, March 14, the 10 day 17th Annual Midwest Boat and Resort Show opens, at its old stand at the burned out Arlington Park, but in new, temporary buildings. These are not tents, but structures complete with heating, restrooms, and lighting.

Last year, over $13 billion was spent on boating equipment and related services. Over nine million hulls were registered. In recent years, boaters have proven responsible buyers...now banking agencies are anxious to finance their purchases.

Being the final large show preceding the local launching, an educated buyer will find timely total transactions can be completed on site. Many marine dealers credit shows for 30 to 50 percent on their annual customers. From the buyers point of view, a good selection of crafts can be checked out during the 10 day display, which includes side-by-side comparison.

So it's Midwest Boat and Resort Show as usual for the 17th year. Week day hours are 4 to 10 p.m. Show opens weekends at noon. Admissions are $5 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under. Parking is adjacent to the buildings. Entry is from Euclid Ave. at the track's main gate No.5, half a mile east of Rte.53. Three hundred boats will be on display, including power and sail. For a special Wednesday matinee, doors open at noon.

Some attendees of the Midwest Boat and Resort Show number among our population of nature loving people, estimated at 80 million, which is half the adult population. These feed, photo, identify and observe wildlife. About a third of them maintain bird feeders or take trips primarily to enjoy the outdoors.

It's good timing for the boat show to fall during National Wildlife Week.

Events scheduled by the health department for March 27 will be held at the following locations.

Schaffer Introduces Seat Belt Measure

Illinois law enforcement officers could not ticket motorists solely for seat-belt offenses under legislation sponsored by Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County). Schaffer and three other senators have introduced this bipartisan measure.

Senate Bill 1559 would amend the vehicle code to stipulate that drivers could not be ticketed for failing to wear a seat belt unless they had been stopped by police for other offenses.

"As the original mandatory seat-belt law (PA 83-1507) was explained by its sponsor, there was to be no arresting people just for failing to use a seat belt," Schaffer said. "This bill clarifies, beyond a doubt, the legislative intent of the original law.

"Sponsoring this bill does not mean I support mandatory seat-belt use," Schaffer said. "I opposed it two years ago and have actively supported all attempts to repeal the law. I think people should wear seat belts, but we don't need to mandate it."

Schaffer said he will poll 32nd Dist. residents this year to determine their opinions about the law.

Also sponsoring SB 1559 are senators Charles Chew Jr. (D-Chicago), Laura Kent Donahue (R-Quincy) and Frank Watson (R-Greenville). Chew sponsored the seat-belt law in the Senate.

Slate Film

The College of Lake County Film Society is showing the 1964 Czech film, "Black Peter," Wednesday, March 26.

The event is free and open to the public.

Announce Scholarship Deadlines

The financial aid office at the College of Lake County announces the March 26 application deadline for two scholarships.

Friends of the Waukegan Public Library are sponsoring a scholarship for a student who plans to work in library science. Applicants must be enrolled in six or more credit hours of library science courses.

Phi Theta Kappa, national community college honor fraternity, will award three $100 scholarships to freshman and sophomore students with a 3.00 or better grade point average.

Applications are available at the CLC Financial Aid Office, Room B101, on the Grayslake campus, or phone (312) 223-3610.

Family Service Agency Slates Open House

The Board and staff of the Family Service Agency of North Lake County, Inc., will host an open house on Friday, March 21, from 4 to 7 p.m. to commemorate the relocation of their Antioch branch office.

The office is located on the lower level of the Heritage Professional Building at 800 North Main St. in Antioch. The open house will feature refreshments, and an opportunity for anyone interested to learn more about the staff and services available through the agency.

The Antioch office opened its doors part-time in December of 1978. It achieved full-time status in January of 1985, when David R. Mitchell, certified social worker, took over its supervision. Since then, demand for services at the office have increased by almost 400 percent. This growth made it necessary to relocate the office to its current, larger quarters on Nov. 1.

The Antioch office is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with evening and Saturday hours available by appointment. More information can be obtained by calling the office at (312)395-8722 or (312)395-8723.

Vintage Comics Worth 'Megabucks'

by GARY S. MEYERS

A vintage Superman comic book may be more rare than Kryptonite and worth more than a vintage wine from the cellars of Baron de Rothchilde.

People of all ages collect the old books for "megabucks." My Mother will never believe this, but comic books are the fourth most-collected item in America.

There are essentially two ways to make money on comic books: speculating on a new comic book or purchasing older books that are already valuable and may continue to increase in value.

The value of a comic book is determined first by the creating artist and second by the main character. Condition, of course, also is very important as well, collectors told The Meyers Report.

NEW EDITIONS: A limited amount of expertise is required to speculate on new comic books.

As an investor, you need to know who the "hot" artists are and have some idea as to how long they will stay hot.

A new comic book will generally appreciate rapidly if it is drawn by a popular artist or if a minor character graduates into a comic book of his own.

Today the cover price for a new comic book is 75 cents, but if you buy in bulk, you can usually get a 30 to 50 percent discount from a distributor. Most speculators buy between 20 and 200 copies of a new comic book.

It usually takes between one-and-a-half to three years for a new comic to appreciate significantly. "It is not worth $3 or $4 at the end of three years," said John Stangeland, the manager of Titan Comics, a Chicago dealer.

For the sake of comparison, it would be like buying gold bullion at $341 per ounce, today's price, and having it rise to $1,000 to $1,300 an ounce.

Presently, there is a new trend in the comic book market--books based on television characters and popular toys have been skyrocketing.

One book, Robo-Tech, listed for $1.50 six months ago, is now worth $6.00, a 400 percent increase in value. (Six months ago an ounce of gold was selling for $321 and is now worth $341, an increase of six percent.)

"Dealers were initially skeptical about comic books based on television characters because the books were not being drawn by 'hot' artists," said Joe Sarno, manager of Comic Kingdom in Chicago. "In fact, most of these books got off to a sluggish start, but in recent months they have been appreciating rapidly."

Most dealers are skeptical about how long this current boom will last.

Another opportunity for investing in new comic books has arrived with the appearance of small independent publishers who are coming out with black and white books.

"Some of these, like Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, a satire of other popular books, have gained popularity," said Scarno. "The comic first appeared 18 months ago and is now in its fourth printing."

"Originally priced at $1.50, first print run copies of Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, are worth up to $75," said Stangeland. "And, copies from the second run are selling for between $8 and $12."

The first print run of these smaller publishers is usually about 10,000, as compared to 100,000 to 150,000, run by the larger publishers like Marvel Comics or D.D. Comics.

If a book from a smaller publisher gets popular, its value appreciates especially rapidly due to the limited supply.

BUYING VINTAGE BOOKS: Investing in older books is a more long-term investment.

"But, the market for older comics turns over every few years. This means that even the value of older comic books fluctuates with market trends," said Stangeland.

Today's rage is "Golden Age" comics from the 1930's and 1940's. Two or three years ago it was the Disney comics of the 1950's.

Scarno forecasts that Superman from the mid 1960's will be the next trendy item.

When collecting older comics, the safest investments are in the first issues of popular characters such as Superman, Captain America and the X-Men.

Sets of comics are also valuable. A set consists of all the books featuring a certain character which were drawn by a single artist.

Artists switch off from books constantly, so a set usually consists of only 12 to 15 books.

The most valuable comic book is the first super-hero comic book ever published. It was published by Action Comics, and featured none other than the man of steel himself, Superman, now in his 580th issue.

One man bought a Superman 1, Superman's first solo book, for $3,000 in 1982 and sold it for $5,000 in 1983. Then in 1984 he bought it back for $7,000 and resold it for $12,000 in 1985.

For potential investors there is the Overstreet Comic Book Price Guide, published by Harmony Books annually in April, and updated each October. It costs $10.95 and is available at most comic book stores and many general book stores.

"Books from an era which is currently popular can be worth double and sometimes triple what they are listed in the Price Guide," Stangeland said.

Committee Studies Chain Duck Blinds

by CHRIS SPECHT

Charles Kempf, resort owner and member of the Fox River-Chain O'Lakes Water Management Agency, has formed a committee of duck hunters who, in the weeks ahead, will discuss ways in which to regulate some of the duck blinds located in the Chain O'Lakes waterway.

Attention was brought to this issue last month when a Mount Prospect man died after his snowmobile hit a duck blind off of Indian Point in Fox Lake. Kempf, however, said that the agency had been examining the problem before the Feb. 22 accident.

Also on the committee are Charles

"Chuck" Miller, the Antioch Chief of Police, Roy Dundalack, of the Water Management Agency, and John Haling, whose family has owned a resort in Antioch for many years. All of the men are duck hunters and familiar with the problems of the duck hunter as well as the boater.

Kempf said that there will be some discussion concerning blinds on state controlled water that may be in the main boating channels, but that these did not cause most of the problems in the waterway.

According to Kempf the lake with the most duck blind problems is Fox Lake. Because this lake is shallower than most others in the waterway, Kempf said that hunters are able to build blinds further away from the shore and in the middle of summer boat traffic.

Kempf explained that the most serious problem caused by the duck blinds was the damage done to boats using the waterway. Some hunters will cut the pilings that support their blinds off at ice level when duck hunting season ends. These pilings are covered by water in the summer and can cause severe damage to boats that run into them.

Some ideas that will be discussed by the committee will include banning the use of pipes and other metal materials as supports for duck blinds and limiting wooden supports to 2X4 boards. The committee will also consider a floating blind only policy for the waterway.

Other regulations that will be considered by the committee will include requiring all hunters to register and report the location of their blind with the Water Management Agency. At the time of registration hunters would have to leave a deposit of $50-$100.

Hunters would also be required to remove their duck blinds by April 30, and they would forfeit their deposit if their blinds were still in the water after this date. Hunters would also be fined and charged with the clean-up cost for not complying.

The committee will also consider requiring all blinds to be fitted with blinking lights that can be seen from a full 360 degrees around the blind. The agency would require only a deposit to supply the lights.

To enforce these regulations the agency would have all blind sites marked on maps and they would regularly check these sites for compliance.

Kempf said that the committee will bring their findings before the agency at their regular meetings which are open to the public. Kempf also said that the main objective of the committee will be to try to get both duck hunters and boaters to work together to improve the Chain O'Lakes Waterway.

"There have been cases of boaters burning down blinds, while at other times hunters have left hazards in the water," explained Kempf, "we're trying to solve these problems in order to promote a sense of harmony between the two groups."

The agency hopes to have a workable solution to the problem by the start of this year's duck hunting season.

Present Family Film Series

Wildwood Presbyterian Church will present a family film series concerning a variety of family issues including parenting young children, parenting adolescents, the issues of pornography, alcoholism and family values.

The series, "Turn Your Heart Toward Home," which is the newest by acclaimed Christian psychologist James S. Dobson, PhD., will be shown on consecutive Wednesdays at the church, located at Rte. 45 and Sears Blvd., beginning Wednesday, March 26, at 7:30 p.m.

The films are not recommended for young audiences.

Part One is entitled "A Father Looks Back," and examines mid-life crisis. It emphasizes how quickly time passes and appeals to all parents to "turn their hearts toward home" during the all-important child-rearing years.

Part Two, "Power in Parenting: The Young Child," offers many practical helps for facing the battlegrounds in child-rearing: bedtime, mealtime and other confrontations familiar to parents.

"Power In Parenting: The Adolescent," is the title of Part Three, in which parent/child relationships are discussed. This part also focuses on the importance of allowing children to grow and develop as individuals.

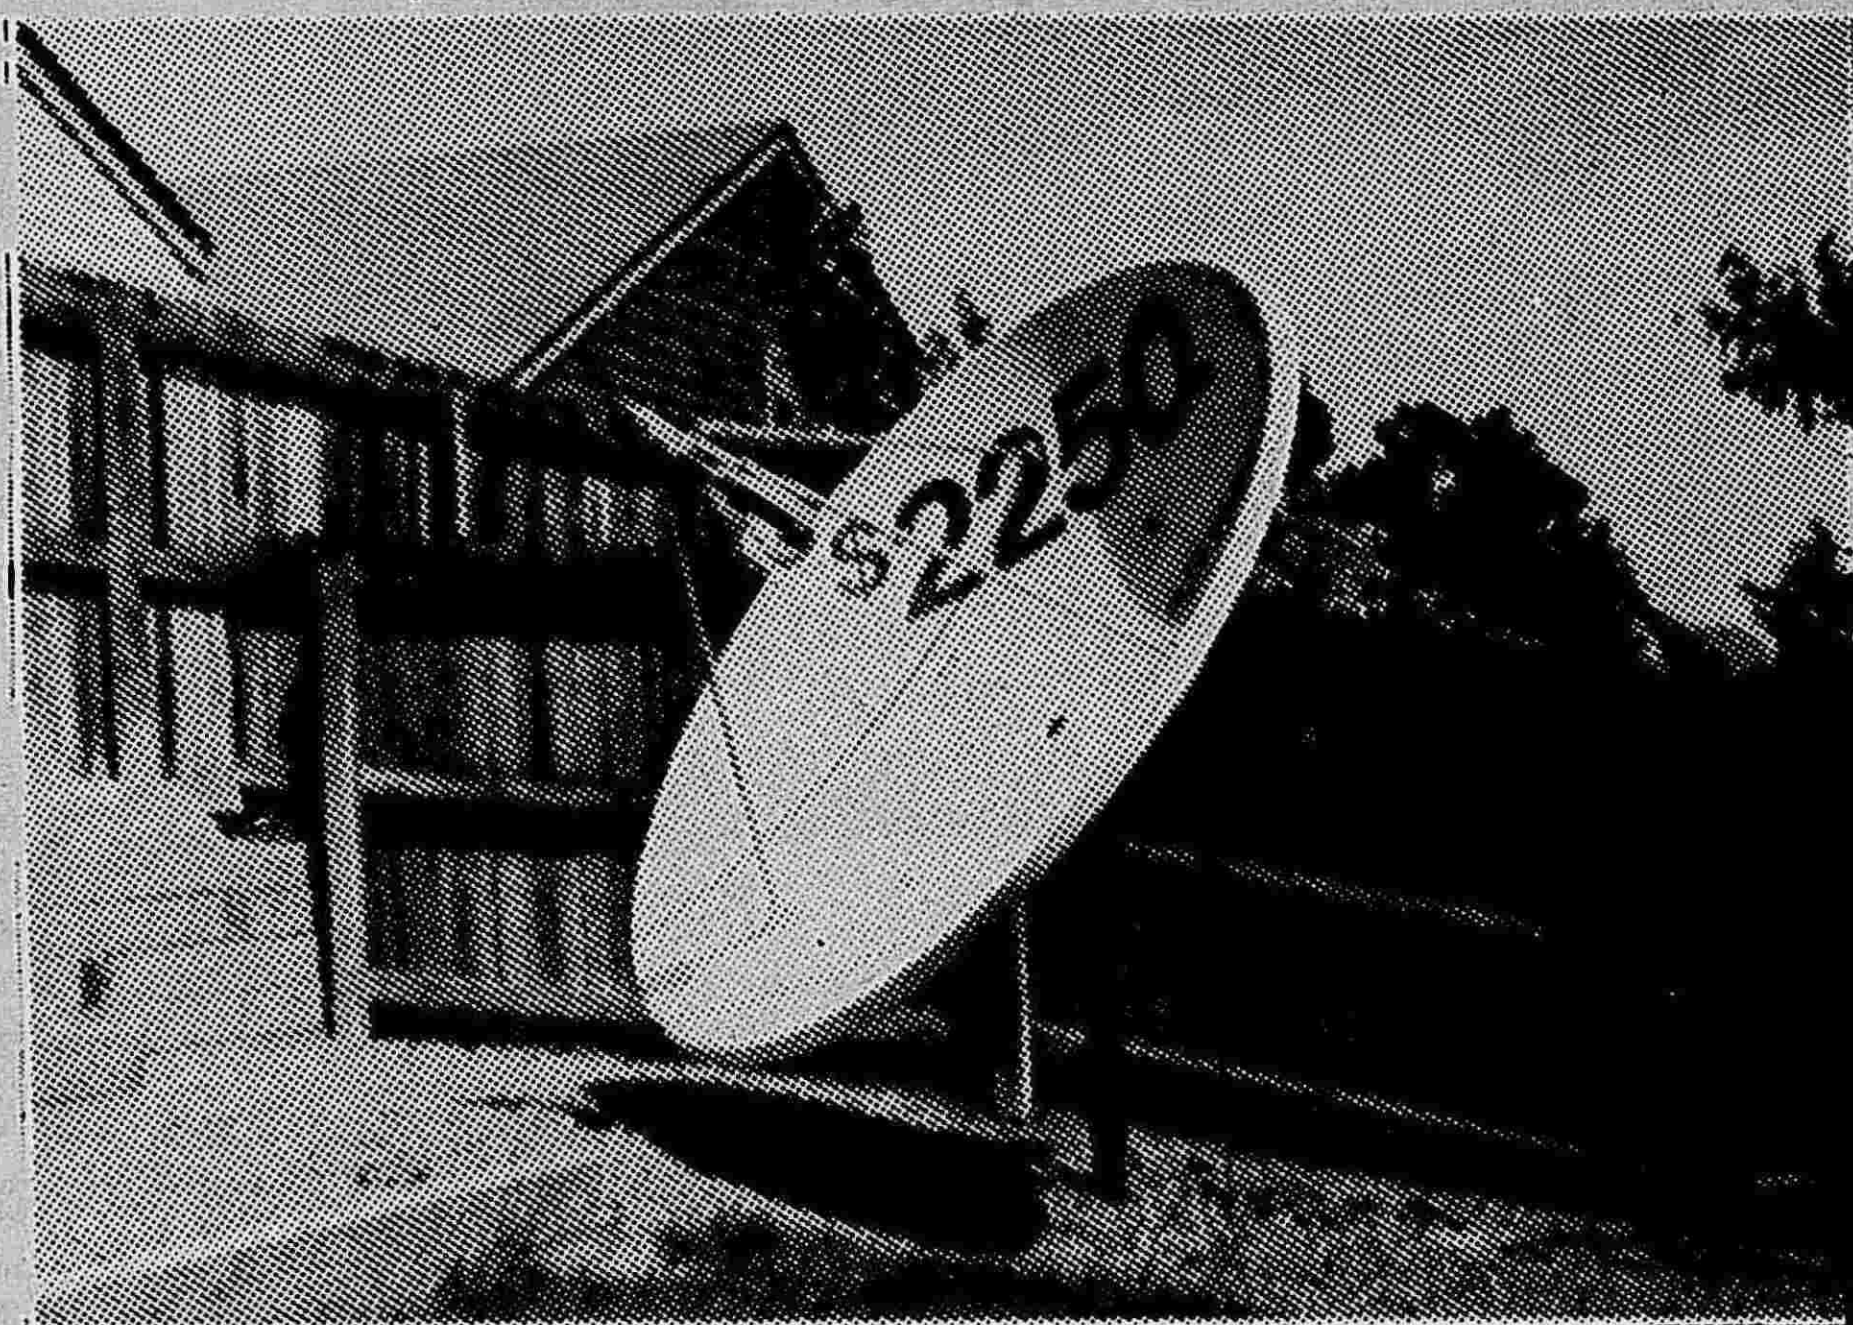

Other topics deal with the "civil war of values" being waged in today's society; the effects of governmental interference, abortion and pornography; and dealing with memories of a difficult childhood.

In the last part, four traditional values are examined, which can help assure happy, healthy, strengthened homes and family relationships in years to come.

A donation is requested to help defray the cost of the series. Each film will be followed by a period of discussion. For more information, call the church office at (312) 223-0073 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services.

Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

This message is brought to you as a public service by U.S. Cable.

Earn Degrees

Illinois State University students from the Lakeland area who received bachelor's degrees at the end of the first semester of the 1985-86 academic year were:

Ruth Maplethorpe, Antioch; Michael Thomas Behm, Grayslake; Lynn Marie Jacobson, Gurnee; Lori Marie Mallon, Ingleside; and Guadalupe Gallegos, Mundelein.

Special Citation

A special citation has been presented to St. Therese Medical Center by the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society in recognition of the facility's smoke-free workplace, and its efforts to promote cancer prevention.

Applications Available For Summer Youth Camps

Boyd Gets Award

Applications for the American Diabetes Assn.'s (ADA) 1986 summer camps, "Triangle D" and "Teen Adventure" are now available at the Northern Illinois Affiliate office in Chicago.

All youths ages eight to 18 with diabetes are eligible for camp registration on a first come, first served basis. Both campsites, "Triangle D Camp" in Lake Geneva, and "Teen Adventure Camp," near Iron River, Mich., are fully accredited by the American Camping Assn. (ACA).

Trained counselors and a full-time medical staff will oversee each one-week session that combines recreational activities with informal learning sessions on diabetes care. Recreational activities include: swimming, canoeing, sailing, hiking, crafts, sing-alongs, games and camp fire stories. Campers will also develop a better understanding of diabetes, its treatment and control. Some topics include: home glucose monitoring; insulin administration; and the importance of balancing insulin, food and exercise.

"Triangle D Camp" will offer two one-week sessions for boys and girls. The first session is for campers ages eight to 10. It will be held June 22-28. The second session is for campers ages 11-13 and will be held June 29 to July 5. The cost of each session is $210. However, no child will be turned away due to financial reasons as fee reductions and camp scholarships are available from the ADA, Northern Illinois Affiliate.

"Teen Adventure Camp" offers teens two one-week sessions. The first session is for campers ages 14 to 18. It will be held July 20-26. The second session is a backpacking trip for experienced campers ages 16 to 18. This trip will be held Aug. 17-23.

The cost of each teen session is $225. Camperships and fee reductions are also available for this program.

For a camp application and additional information, call the ADA, Northern Illinois Affiliate, at (312) 346-1805. The registration deadline is May 31.

LaBelle-Geary Faction Takes County

County Board Chairman James "Jim" LaBelle of Zion solidified his leadership on the basis of results in the primary election Tuesday, March 18.

LaBelle not only won a Republican nomination handily in his own Dist. 3 of Zion, Benton, Newport and the northern half of Waukegan townships, but key backers came through elsewhere in the county.

Norman Geary, Dist. 4 leader, in west Lake County, a Republican, and John Balen, Dist. 2 Democrat, both won reelection in hard-fought contests.

Both were instrumental in electing LaBelle

Chairman in December, 1984, by a 13-11 vote on the 27th ballot.

Two LaBelle backers from Dist. 1 along the North Shore, Helen Amendola of Highland Park and James P. Mitchell of Deerfield, easily turned back opponents to win Republican nominations.

At least two County Board incumbents lost Tuesday, Pat Wilson of Mundelein, from Dist. 6, and Eugene Martin of Libertyville, from Dist. 5. Wilson served one four-year term and Martin served through appointment.

With nearly all precincts tabulated, following are totals in County Board district nomination races:

Dist. 1—West Deerfield, Deerfield, Vernon portion, Shields portion: Republican—Amendola 1,889; Mitchell 1,397; Price 978 and Segal 774.

Dist. 2—Shields portion, Waukegan portion; Democrat—Hodge 1,079; Balen 1,023; Pekol 963; Buffano 934; Lacey (dropped) 248. Republican—Maholic 440; Vetrone 350; Fagan 238 and Diamond 204.

Dist. 3—Zion, Benton, Waukegan portion:

Republican—LaBelle 3,036; Bailey 2,088 and Whitmore 1,652.

Dist. 4—Antioch, Lake Villa, Grant and Avon Townships: Republican—Geary 2,150; Kiesgen 2,317; Anderson 2,210; Mestan 1,559; Tobolik 1,009 and Edwards 685.

Dist. 5—Warren, Libertyville and Vernon Townships: Republican (incomplete): Graham 3,234; Calabrese 2,770; Depke 2,668; Burnette 2,470; Martin 1,299.

Dist. 6—Ela, Vernon, Wauconda and Fremont Townships: Republican—Miller 2,132; Hansen 2,016; Wilson 1,859; Reindl 1,876.

Yastro Elected

Sybil Yastro, a 10-year assistant in the office of Regional School Supt., won both a Republican nomination and the office on March 18.

The Democrats did not field a candidate in the primary.

Yastro defeated Larry TenPas of Waukegan 13,948 to 6,938.

Unopposed Tuesday

Two Lake County officials, Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox and Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson won renomination without opposition in the primary election Tuesday, March 18.

Other republicans winning nomination without opposition included State Reps. Robert W. Churchill, William E. Peterson and Virginia Fiester Frederick.

John R. Goshgarian was unopposed seeking a GOP nomination for Circuit Court Judge from the 19th District.

Barkhausen Wins

State Sen. David Barkhausen easily won renomination in the Republican primary defeating Herbert L. "Herb" Gorrell 8,237 to 2,498 with three precincts unreported.

Hendle Leads

George Hendle led in the early returns in a four-way race for the Republican nomination for McHenry County Sheriff.

With 46 of 132 precincts reporting, Hendle had 2,338 votes. Matt Schalz had 1,122. Joe Policky had 837 votes, 300 ahead of Wilbur Hecht.

Graham 'Rolls' To Another Win

"If it isn't done now, it isn't going to get done," is the approach newly-elected Dist. 5 Republican County board member F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville maintained regarding last minute campaigning on election day.

"We made a few calls, but our campaign was officially over the day before elections," he said. Carrying out a 17-year tradition, Graham stopped at a local bakery to buy rolls for all the precinct judges in his area.

"In 1959, a dozen rolls for each of the 15 precincts cost $6. Today, with 32 precincts in Libertyville Twp., that tradition runs an estimated $146," he said.

Regarding voter turnout, Graham said primary elections have "always been disappointing. It clearly points up the need for a blanket primary where both parties can vote," he said, estimating that a 30 percent turnout would be on the high side.

The concept of a "blanket primary," currently used in the State of Washington, for example, lists the names of all candidates from both parties on one ballot.

"In this primary, we disenfranchised the Democrats. It was virtually no contest," Graham said.

Meets Election Day With Energy

Not one to ease up on the last day of her campaign, Lake County Clerk candidate Venita McConnel started the morning of March 18 at 4:30 a.m.

After casting her own vote at the Wauconda Post Office, she headed out to the local bakery shortly before 7 a.m. to pick up rolls to distribute at polling areas throughout the Wauconda precincts.

The campaign continued in Mundelein where she and a supporter covered more ground at the Jewel and Eagle stores, and the Jewel in Lake Zurich.

McConnel, who is also village clerk of Wauconda, said that at the encouragement of Wauconda Mayor Ken McGill, she would take a break from attending the village board meeting March 18. A campaign party was held at Angelo's in Wauconda.

Clerk Winner

Dist. 4 County Board Rep. Donna-Mae Nix Litwiler is a picture of confidence and happiness as she celebrates victory in campaign for county clerk nomination on Republican ticket. With backing of sheriff's office and majority of elected county officials, Litwiler defeated Village Clerk Venita McConnel with 57 percent of a light voter turnout.

Where To Vote Causes Confusion

Where to vote was the question that raised confusion among some North Chicago voters in the aldermanic primaries.

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess said that the mix-up was caused by an earlier redistricting of the wards. She said that although North Chicago residents were issued new voter identification cards prior to the elections, many people were still going to the wrong polling places.

The problems had been expected, Hess said, adding, however, that she does not foresee the same situation happening in the future.

No Demo Mischief

Republican township leaders were in agreement across the county that the extremely light Democratic voter turnout was a good indication that no crossover mischief materialized. GOP strategists thought that a Democratic crossover could influence the outcome of the hotly contested Republican County Clerk's race.

A Routine Day

Mary Ellen Durkin, deputy county clerk in charge of elections, and County Clerk Linda Hess had to pinch themselves several times early Tuesday afternoon to make sure a smooth running primary was in progress. "Very smooth" and "real quiet" is the way Durkin characterized Primary Day '86.

Kiesgen Campaigns Hard

Char Kiesgen did not let up for one minute on the last day of her campaign for a seat on the Lake County Board.

The first part of Kiesgen's day was spent making appearances near various polling places in Antioch, Grayslake, Fox Lake, and Round Lake. In most towns candidates can pass out literature near a polling place as long as they are 100 ft. or more away from the polling booths. In Grayslake the required distance is 400 ft.

Kiesgen spent the latter part of her day working her precinct lists and reminding people to get out and vote.

Kiesgen remained optimistic about her chances and said that the outcome depended largely upon voter turnout. Kiesgen said that her staff had been keeping track of the number of votes cast and found turnout to be about average despite the inclement weather on election day.

Kiesgen ended her campaign day with a gathering of friends and supporters at the Lake View Hotel in Fox Lake.

Enough Delays From Water Committee: McRae

By SUSAN MONTGOMERY

In what may be the sharpest blow of criticism yet to the Central Lake County Water Committee (CLCWC), Mundelein Mayor Colin McRae has said that the committee is "stalling" in its efforts to obtain Lake Michigan water for the six member communities.

In an open letter, McRae said that "more time and money have been spent than necessary to decide on the most recent lake water project, but that's democracy in action."

The committee, which includes Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills, Grayslake, Gurnee, Lake Bluff, Knollwood, Roundout and Wildwood, formed four years ago to study the feasibility of constructing a pipeline to bring lake water to those communities.

By owning their pipeline rather than agreeing to buy water from another community, CLCWC participants had hoped to control their water costs.

Over the past several months, however, the committee has debated at length whether to buy water from Highland Park or pursue a proposal from Lake Forest enabling the CLCWC to construct its own pipeline. According to Libertyville Mayor Paul Neal, construction costs would be paid off and water rates would be reduced after 20 years.

Last month, the committee agreed to divide into two tiers, with communities in the southern portion including Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills, Lake Bluff, Knollwood and Roundout, receiving their water from Lake Forest or Highland Park.

Grayslake, Gurnee and Wildwood would pursue either Waukegan or the Lake County Public Water Dist. in Zion as possible water sources.

The delays in reaching a decision has drawn repeated criticism and raised the question of whether the committee should actually form a Joint Action Water Agency, which Neal has promoted. The agency would be able to issue bonds to finance construction of the pipeline.

At the committee's February meeting, McRae said he would support an intergovernmental agreement rather than the water agency.

In his letter, McRae said that the "prevailing wisdom of experts" looking at the same question faced by Libertyville, Mundelein and Gurnee 10 years ago was to purchase and pipe water approximately 27 miles from the Lake County Water Dist. in Zion.

Experts, he said, called it a "cinch" that we would all receive lake water allocations which were then pending. Of course, when anyone questioned the basis, economic and political, for that wisdom, the result was very predictable," McRae said.

"For the record, there are few around today who would claim the plan of 10 years ago was economically practical, feasible or possible," he said. "Now, a new wave of experts are indignantly characterizing those with differing ideas with unflattering adjectives."

"Yes, now we are stalling," McRae said.

McRae also charged that Neal is currently awaiting a decision from IDOT "as to whether the village will get special treatment and be able to postpone its contractual obligation to cease using its wells. No matter that Libertyville needs that water to provide to its citizens and, of course, it really needs it if it is to strike any agreement with Mr.

Cuneol

"None of the above matters - just ask Mayor Neal," he said.

Memorabilia Tells St. Mary's Story

by VIRGINIA KRUEGER

St. Mary's Church in Fremont, celebrated its centennial in 1964. At that time Leonard Schmitt, president of the Fort Hills Historical Society had been asked to compile a history of the church. He spoke to many people, literally "picking their brains," for background data and as a result, accumulated a multitude of old photographs. This "uncovering of memories" took Schmitt approximately five years.

According to Schmitt, St. Mary's Church was originally located on Fremont Center Rd. with cemeteries on either side. When the church was moved to its present location, relatives of those buried in the cemeteries were requested to make arrangements to move the graves to the new location. There were approximately 50 graves that had to be moved by hand, with pick and shovel, so it became a very lengthy project.

"The area at this time," related Schmitt, "was called Marsh Settlement, for a family named Marsh, as was the custom in those days. St. Mary's Church," he continued, "was then called St. John's German Roman Catholic Church, whereas the area in Wauconda, where the Transfiguration Cemetery is now, was known as Murray, for a family in those parts. There was a little log cabin church located there at that time."

Schmitt has collected pictures and documents of past happenings. For instance, there is a copy of the deed to the present church property, that was signed by John and Anna Maier on June 23, 1860. A Civil War Record belonging to George Diebold, shows the various battles in which he participated. George Diebold is the grandfather of Virginia Diebold, president of St. Mary's Senior Center of Fremont.

A letter from a former nun, Sister Mary Doris, who had taught back in those "good old days," related: "Our convent had previously been a chicken house which we helped clean, and soon had a kitchen, parlor, bedroom and a room where we taught 40 children. The house was so cold," she wrote on, "that we got permission to sleep together at night to keep warm. We kept our fresh vegetables in a container behind the organ in the parlor."

In the early 1900's (1900-1907) church members decided to put a furnace in the church. They had to tunnel a path under the church, by hand and horsepower, and dig a round circle in the center for the furnace. In later years, they were able to jack up the church, remove all the dirt that remained from the tunnel, and put in walls, which is where the seniors now have their meetings. One of the seniors, Michael Titus, fondly recalls: "I was 15 and I was one of the helpers. It took a long time to get all that dirt out of there and I remember, we had a Fordson tractor that sure made a lot of smoke! Father Loukemper, pastor at that time, would come out in the afternoon and give us something to drink, and boy, did that taste good!"

Among the old pictures of St. Mary's which Schmitt has procured, is one of the Amann Brothers Dance Hall in Round Lake. Evidently this was where people would get together for parties and family gatherings, etc. That dance hall was the structure we all know as the Brass Wheel, which was recently destroyed by fire.

President Diebold recalls: "I remember my parents getting me all bundled up when I was about five, for the trip to the dance hall by sleigh. It was quite a long trip at that time, especially by sleigh."

Another senior, Josephine Lenzen, said, "My mother came to this area when she was six or seven years old. Both Lenzen and her sister, Rose Klabunde, fondly recalled how their parents had donated the cost of the main altar at St. Mary's around 1899.

In 1912 Father Bay, pastor at the time, had arranged to have a combined school and convent completed, and it was dedicated by Archbishop Mundelein.

It appears that many of the former residents and/or relatives still reside in or about this area.

A bell from the original church, cast in 1865, is on the front lawn of St. Mary's, a constant reminder of "the days of yore!"

Recognize Program

The Learning Assistance Center (LAC) at the College of Lake County, Grayslake, has been included in "The National Directory of Exemplary Programs in Developmental Education," according to Carole Bulakowski, director. The LAC is one of five exemplary programs statewide included in the publication.

The directory identifies programs in developmental Program components include placement and diagnostic testing, counseling and advisement, learning disabilities and more.

The LAC provides tutoring and alternative delivery systems to support and complement classroom instruction.

Request Help

programs, Foot-Lites, Street Scenes, etc. This is all done at no charge.

Jewel's Shop & Share will enable the association to raise the needed money. When shopping at Jewel Foods on March 24, 25 or 26, ask for a slip and the association will get a donation.

For more information, call Tom Sittler at (312) 356-3036.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE
BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) It's tote-up time for Aries. Check your pluses and minuses so far. Build on the positives and make adjustments where results lagged behind your efforts.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) A change in direction is called for. Opportunity waits just a little way off the beaten path. Remember: one good turn results in a very good return, indeed.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Two strikes against you are to hope for the best, or anticipate the worst. Do neither. Instead, plan well and work towards hitting the winning run.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 20) A disruptive influence can be dealt with in a constructive way. Avoid answering abuses in kind; instead, show a kinder reaction. It will disarm your adversary.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) No more catnaps, Kitten. All Leos and Leonas need to be as alert as possible. All sorts of challenges lie waiting for you. Don't get caught by surprise.

Virgo (Aug. 22-Sept. 22) Caution: it takes more than just baring one's teeth to create a smile. If you want the last laugh, be sure a show of humor isn't masking something else.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Cultivate what you already have to offer and you won't need to sniff the flowers in any other garden. Opportunities blossom in profusion.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Hurry up and slow down. Instead of going in all directions, change the pattern now. Focus on one goal at a time. You save energy as you make progress.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Major physical changes require major mental adjustments. Open your mind and be ready to accept new facts as you move into new situations.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Sitting still in an effort to avoid making a choice makes you a sitting duck instead. Don't waste time waiting when time can work for you.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Facts bolster your case and build a firm foundation for a continuing dialogue. Friends who weren't sure are reassured and rally around again.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Others try to undermine your position but they simply wind up paddling in a muddled puddle while you move steadily and surely ahead.

St. Therese Retirees Represent 1,000 Plus

Fifty-four employees of St. Therese Medical Center, representing more than 1,000 years of service, were honored at a special retirement reception, Feb. 28, at the medical center.

The reception took place in Mother Leonarda Conference Center at St. Therese, where employees of the center said goodbye to co-workers who were at the medical center for many years.

Mabel Blaha, director of materials management, had the most years of service to St. Therese at 41. Those with more than 30 years were: Joanne Boggs, affiliated services (34); Alice Jump, nursing service/administration (32); Betty Kristan, director of nursing service (34); Betty Pye, nursing service/administration (32); and Eleanor Zdanowicz, affiliated services (33).

A three-tiered cake, with the number 1,096 signifying the total years of combined service of the retirees was the centerpiece for the refreshment table. Smaller cakes in pink and white bore the names of all 54 retirees. Each person was presented with a corsage or boutonniere, a gift certificate to a local business and a personalized plaque which read, "Given as token of our gratitude for your loyal service and friendship. This award also expresses our appreciation for your standard of excellence over the years."

All 54 people honored at the reception took advantage of a one-time Early Retirement Incentive Plan offered to eligible employees by the St. Therese Human Services Corporation. Many of these people had been considering retirement for some time and this extra incentive made retirement possible.

Sixty-nine employees were eligible for this plan.

The reception was hosted by Nora C. O'Malley, FACHE, medical center president and Sister Kathleen Kane, S.Sp. S., chairman of the board.

Edison Proposes Summertime Cuts

Commonwealth Edison has asked the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) to reduce summertime electricity charges by 12.4 percent for the first 400 kilowatthours (KWH) used by all of Edison's 2.7 million residential customers.

Approximately one-half of all monthly residential bills issued over a year's time are for less than 400 kwh, Edison noted. All residential customers would receive a 23.3 percent reduction for the first 100 kwh used. The lower rate would begin to go into effect May 15, if approved by the ICC.

The large differential between summer and non-summer charges, which has been in effect for the past several years, has not improved the company's system load pattern, Edison maintained. It has, in fact, discouraged customers from using heat relief devices during moderate summer weather, but not on the hottest days.

Since customers use air conditioners on hot days regardless of cost, peak electric demand continues to increase, but the lower utilization during warm weather lowers Edison's load factor. A higher load factor is better, Edison maintains, since fixed costs are spread over more kilowatthours which will, over time, result in lower electric rates.

Company surveys have repeatedly shown that customers don't understand the existing pricing and find increased summer rates highly objectionable.

"In particular, these reductions address the concerns of residential customers who use little or no air conditioning and who have felt that they have been unfairly charged at the higher rate," Edison Vice President Donald Petkus observed.

Presently, the summer rate is 12.52 cents per kwh for all kwh used. Under Edison's proposal, the charge would drop to 9.60 cents per kwh for the first 100 kwh and 11.421 cents for the next 300 kwh. The summer rate would remain 12.52 cents per kwh for all usage over 400 kwh.

Non-summer kwh charges would be increased to narrow the current large differential between summer and non-summer charges. Currently, the non-summer rate is 7.474 cents per kwh for the first 400 kwh and 4.573 cents per kwh for all kwh over 400. Under the proposed new schedule, the first 400 kwh would be billed at 9.60 cents per kwh and all kwh over 400 at 4.786 cents per kwh. The company stated that the summer and non-summer changes were expected to balance out and result in no net change.
